RESTAURANT DOOR CUSTOM FEATURES

Customization is an ideal feature for nearly everything. People prefer products that are custom and cannot be found anywhere else. When it comes to restaurants, you want your establishment to be a unique place that is set apart from all others. Aside from your custom menu items, your restaurant's décor and interior design can easily distinguish your establishment. Custom windows, door / window graphics, and even custom laminate options are some of our most popular ways to set door products apart.

Custom Windows

Customize the shape, size and style of your Eliason door window. Available on most SCP models and our P11-Plus, a customized window can provide a very distinct look to your traffic door. A sleek, elongated window can provide excellent visibility, and our new flush window design is attractive and functional to help provide a high-quality look to your double-acting traffic door.

Custom Laminate Options

Optional laminates are applied to the surface of the door, giving a unique look that is custom to your establishment. It might be a color match to existing décor or a new, shiny, textured copper finish. Our whiteboard laminate is a popular option that is usually applied on the kitchen side of the door, providing a re-usable space for writing important messages (soup of the day / daily special, etc.). The whiteboard laminate allows the use of dry-erase markers, meaning that you can use this creative space over and over again!

Custom Door & Window Graphics

Custom logos, messages or graphics can be applied to doors and windows to bring them “to life!” Maybe it’s a photo of a popular dish, a printed message to employees and / or customers, or perhaps it’s simply a restaurant’s logo...whichever direction you choose, this provides a unique, new way to display visuals to your workers and customers.

Hold-Open Feature

Double-acting traffic doors are designed to open on impact and then close automatically. However, there are times when you may want your door to stay in the open position. Simply specify the Eliason hold-open feature when ordering your door and we will provide a specially designed cam plate that provides a machined slot that the rollers drop into when the door is held in the open position.
