Dedication

We, the Seniors of Corry Area High School, take great pleasure in dedicating our Yearbook, the Corrian of 1968, to Mrs. Elmer Ortner in sincere appreciation for her unfailing and devoted years as an excellent and understanding teacher.

In 1951 she came to Corry High School as a substitute teacher. In 1955 she became a member of the regular faculty staff, teaching French for twelve years until her resignation on July 1, 1967.

Students of Corry Area High School will never forget her sincere desire to instill in them an appreciation of the better things in life—not only subject matter but also cultural enrichment.

TO THE CLASS OF '68

AFTER GRADUATION—WHAT? We will congratulate you at commencement time and then look forward to complimenting you again at a later date for another job well done. A follow-up study will be made of the Class of '68.

Your class has much to offer your community, your country and your loved ones. Most of all perhaps the world needs your frank, honest, optimistic spirit of youth.

Youth has always stood for fair play and ideals. Some day the young people of the world will band together in a new movement and project their ideas and plans for future international peace and cooperation.

Whether listening to foreign students, talking in Texas, Minnesota, Pennsylvania or near the Rock of Gibraltar my impression has been the same. Youth speaks a common language. Young people detest the hypocrite, the pharisee and the dictator. They admire courage, integrity, action, and fair play.

It is this language of youth from free nations that must write the peace terms of the world—not the will of dictators from the Near East or the Far East. Unfortunately, however, we must admit that the communists have imposed their thinking upon approximately one-third of the world population. And always—great emphasis has been placed on control of the minds of students through indoctrination.

But why should the Class of '68 be concerned about the world problems? You are being graduated during a period of great national prosperity. However, this land of prosperity, freedom and opportunity can remain so only if there is character, wisdom and vision in our government and in our citizenry. Right now it appears the Torch of Freedom has lost its bright glow and national integrity has corroded. That is why the future of America depends so much on the ideals, character and courage of the youth of today.

We hope that our future report on you shows that the Class of '68 "Served with Distinction."

LEROY G. PECK
PRINCIPAL, SENIOR HIGH

Dear Class of 1968:

Sincere congratulations to the Class of 1968 from the faculty and administration of Corry High School. We are pleased that you have completed your formal secondary education and wish for you the best of success in your future endeavors.

I feel that a special congratulation is deserved by the CORRIAN staff for the theme of this yearbook. Patriotism is a necessity in any society, but in a democratic society where freedom is enjoyed, the necessity is even greater. A true patriot has the right to his dissent only when he has earned that right. A true patriot will not close his eyes to the faults he sees, but when he finds them will do something of a positive nature to correct the faults he has discovered. To me, patriotism is more than waving a flag or repeating the allegiance, patriotism is an emotion that should be expressed openly in the way you are talented to display your feelings. I trust that you will never be disloyal to your country by failing to support your country to your best ability.

Best of luck to all of you in a future that promises to provide each of you with a challenge.

Sincerely
Leroy G. Peck
Your Principal

My Congratulations to the Class of 1968

The members of this class, like those of the classes before you, will branch out into various fields of endeavor. Whatever path you pursue I would have you remember that your "freedom of choice" was bought by the heroes of the wars of 1776, 1812, World War I and II and other wars which challenged our democratic way of life. It is your duty and mine to protect that freedom, even with our lives if necessary, for those who will come after us.

With the many problems facing the young graduate today, it is most fitting for the Corrian staff to select Patriotism as its theme.

Each graduate should be aware that the generations before us had similar problems. We have inherited freedom, but we must realize that our fathers and our grandfathers fought for this freedom.

Freedom will not survive without constant protection. You must in the future be prepared to protect this freedom so that generations to come may have the same opportunities that you have enjoyed.

The meaning and value of patriotism has been presented to you in many ways during your school career. The faculty and administrators sincerely believe that you will carry out your obligations to society.

Senior Class History

A history should not be simply a collection of facts concerning events; it should be a record of growth, of errors committed, of lessons learned. This is the record which the Class of 1968 wishes to leave.

Our years in high school have been a time of growth, a painfully slow process which we did not realize was taking place. We have matured mentally, our minds taxed, stretched and challenged by our teachers; we have matured socially, through the exhausting whirlpool of activities and events; we have matured by assuming responsibility, by learning to study, and by working in organizations. We leave this school with regrets for some of our actions and attitudes. At times, we were irresponsible, purposeless in our academic pursuits, overly frivolous, and to varying degrees rebellious. Although we have made mistakes, we have learned some valuable lessons while in this stimulating environment of learning. We have learned to question and to motivate and direct our minds to find answers. We have learned that all people have value, and that no person has the right to consider others inferior. We have come to realize, surprisingly, that the imposition of authority and the regimentation of high school life are needed by youth.

The Class of 1968 looks back on the past few years with fondness and joy, thankful to its advisors, Mr. William Miller, Mr. Max Bennink, and Mrs. George Orcutt, as well as to the faculty and administration of Corry Area High School, for their inestimable patience and help. Now, with a bit of hesitancy, with a bit of apprehension, but with a great measure of enthusiasm, we move on, confronted by a great truth: we still have a lot to learn.

Remember When . . .

It was September 6—Wed. Back to school again. The start of another good year at C.A.H.S.

It was September 9—Sat. First football game of the "67-68" school season.

It was September 26—Tues. Ping-Pong pictures. A day of smiling faces.

It was October 6—Fri. Our third annual homecoming football game.

It was October 12-13. Schools closed for teacher's institute.

It was October 26. Our first report cards for the year.

It was November 10—Fri. Senior class farewell party for our Rotary Foreign exchange student, Vicki Hambling.

It was November 20-21. The annual Junior class musical with its usual big success.

It was November 23-24. School closed. It's Thanksgiving vacation again!!!

Remember When . . .

It was November 27—Mon. School closed. First day of deer season.

It was December 7—Thurs. Class rings for the Juniors finally arrived.

It was December 22—January 2. Vacation! Everyone was filled with the joy of Christmas.

It was January 25. End of the first semester.

It was March 1. The Senior class play was held.

It was April 11—12. A happy Easter Vacation for all.

It was May 29. The most remembered night of the year.

It was May 30—31. Schools closed for Memorial Day.

It was June 2—Sun. Baccalaureate. Each day the excitement grows for the seniors.

It was June 7—Fri. The last day of school, and now we look back and "Remember When" we had such a great year in the "1967—1968" school year.

It was June 6. Commencement. The big night that the Seniors have been looking forward to, brings sadness to their hearts.

“The Night Of January 16th”

Below: Roger Butters and Sheri Ott.

The annual Junior Class play was entitled “The Night of January 16th.” This play differed from the usual comedy as it was a drama.

Karen Andre’ was being tried for the murder of Bjourn Faulkner. A jury was selected from the audience at the beginning of the performance and brought in a verdict of “not guilty.”

The play was enjoyed by everyone.

American Field Service Student

HECTOR Y. DIMACALI

A lot of intriguing questions bewildered me, few days prior to my departure for the U.S. Almost all of them seemed to have tried to change my mind. Putting them on one side of the scale, I also put on the other side the sacred purpose of the American Field Service which is being clearly explained by a famous quotation in the Sanskrit. It runs like this: "Walk Together, Talk Together, O Ye Peoples of the Earth; Then, and Only Then Shall Ye Have Peace." After the vainless efforts of trying to balance the scale, I finally sealed my decision, though still with little apprehension. Apprehension, I said, because I was not sure of my destiny in the U. S. I knew that I'll be meeting a different people, customs, beliefs, ideals, etc. I knew, too, that there is a possibility of encountering problems and experiencing moments of sadness and the spirit of nostalgia, besides times of happiness and contentment.

So my decision went on. After a series of fascinating trips, I finally reached my point of destination. Days passed so quickly, and so with weeks and months, that it was beyond my knowledge, that my stay here is inevitably coming to an end. I don't have any alternative, but to follow the order, that is: To go back to my home country. Yes, my heart should be dancing in jubilation, for I'll be having rendezvous again with my family, relatives and friends. But as the time of my stay is gradually coming fast to an end, my feet are becoming heavier, and my heart's beatings are becoming faster and louder. These are signs of worry. What made me feel such? Well, maybe because everybody here has been (and will ever be) a part of my life. There is my beloved CAHS and my respected mentors, who have given me additional knowledge and power, which I'll treasure and be proud of; my family, who has sacrificed for one year in enduring the problems that I brought to them, and who has shown tremendous care and kindness to yours truly; my friends, who have shown their interest and love and everybody else, who has cooperated with me with no sense of hesitation. Because of these I can rightfully say that the American Field Service, together with the expectation of my country (Philippine Islands), school (Victoria High School), family, relatives and friends were not in vain. My only regret is that they were not able to share actually my unforgettable experience.

Thank you.

Hector Y. Dimacali

American Field Service Student

This year I represented Corry High School as its sixth American Field Scholar and its first Field Scholar to attend a school for a year in a foreign country. I attended Epsom Girls' Grammar School in Auckland, New Zealand.

I left Corry on January 19, 1967, and went to Buffalo, New York, where I caught a flight to Chicago and then Los Angeles. In Los Angeles I met my thirty-eight companions to New Zealand. We left Los Angeles on January 20, in the evening, flying by Air New Zealand and arrived in Auckland on the twenty-second after short stops in Honolulu and Fiji. I didn't meet my family for a week because they were away at their summer cabin but was billeted with Mr. Ian Christensen and his family who had a daughter in Massachusetts.

My first week was a jumble—afternoon teas, morning tea with the mayor of Auckland, days spent on the beach resulting in a bad sunburn, and meeting hundreds of people. My mind was in a clutter from which it didn't recover for months.

I soon met my New Zealand family, the Davenports. Dad, the headmaster of an Intermediate School; Mum; Greg, 19, my eldest brother who attended Auckland University; Margaret (Ming) and Liz, 17 and 15 both attending Epsom Girls'; Mark, 14, a student at Auckland Grammar School and Nick, 10, at Remuera Primary School.

I have been in New Zealand for ten months. I've travelled over a good deal of both islands. I've learned to say, "Fair go," and not to pronounce my r's. I've picked up the customs of my adopted land, but most of all I know the people. I know the Maoris who were at one time fierce cannibals but are now a merry, fun-loving people who like to hunt and fish but who also have their leaders in Parliament, highly intelligent men and women with degrees from Auckland University and the other large universities in New Zealand. I know the sheep farmers who have stations of 10,000 acres and more who form the backbone of the economy and the dairy farmers with farms with 100 cows run by one man. I've attended school with the teenagers and they are my friends now and I know that New Zealanders aren't different from me basically.

During my year in New Zealand I've learned more about the United States in telling other people about the States.

When I leave New Zealand, I will be glad to be coming home but I will miss my family and friends and my adopted land. I will always be grateful to everyone who gave me what will probably be the biggest and one of the most important years of my life.

Rotary Student Exchange

I arrived in Adelaide, the capital of South Australia, on July 16. I was met by several members of the Rotary Club of Prospect and their wives, hosts for my year in Australia.

Adelaide, a city of 750,000 people, has several suburbs of which Prospect is one. While here, I am attending Adelaide Girl's High School which has approximately 740 girls in five years of high school.

At the time you will be reading this, I will be almost ready to return home from this marvelous year. By that time I will have changed homes several times and will have seen much more than I have until now.

I have had a chance for two major trips thus far—one of them to the Andamooka Opal Fields in northern South Australia, and the other to Melbourne, the capital of the state of Victoria.

I would like to say thank you to all of the teachers, who by adding to my general education, have helped to make this possible.

Patricia Imhoff

Patricia Ann Imhoff, Rotary Exchange Student from Corry to Australia.

Anne Victoria Hambling, Rotary Exchange Student from Australia to Corry.

I love a sunburnt country,
A land of sweeping plain,
Of rugged mountain ranges,
Of drought and flooding rain;
I love her far horizons,
I love her jewelled sea,
Her beauty and her treasures.
That wide brown land's for me.

Although I love the American people very much, I have learned that there is no place quite like home. Eleven months goes quickly when you are enjoying every minute of it. This is one year I'll never forget and I'm only sorry that each one of you can't participate in the Exchange Program. It's certainly a wonderful experience. How could I ever forget the faculty and students of C.A.H.S. and what a bloody good lot they were to me?

Junior Class History

President	Dennis Harrison
Vice-President	George Sample
Secretary	Marlene Kane
Treasurer	Pandelee Howard
Advisor	Mr. Max Bennink

Another year has passed for the juniors. Throughout the confusion, the bustle of our activities, our unity as a class and as friends, we feel it has been a period of learning, of sharing, and of progress. These have been experiences to build upon.

After an introductory class assembly with our advisor, Mr. Bennink, we began our activities as a class constructing our prize-winning steamboat float for the annual Homecoming. Plans immediately materialized for the presentation of our lively musical, ON WITH THE SHOW. Perhaps the greatest production ever presented by such a group of high school students, two of our five shows were presented to the Warren State Hospital and the Waterford student body. Preceded by a cast party, a musical was only an introduction to our enthusiasm.

Not neglecting our financial responsibilities as juniors, funds were raised by sponsoring a "Spectrum Dance" and by selling candy bars. Eagerly awaited, class rings arrived in December as promised. With an authentic Western flavor, a "Bonanza Party" rewarded us for our efforts in January, soon followed by the fruit of our efforts, the spring Prom. In conclusion to our title as juniors, summer brought the class picnic, scholastic freedom for many, rest, and the weight of an additional responsibility, the rapid passing of time.

We suddenly found ourselves older in years, and hopefully in maturity.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our friend, advisor, and teacher, Mr. Bennink, for growing with us. To be remembered fondly is flattering, yet to be remembered respectfully is our earnest desire.

Treasurer	Rod Burrows
Advisor	Mr. David Plyler

During their sophomore year, the Class of 1970 was led by President Joe McLaughlin with the assistance of Beckie Kane, Vice-President. The Executive Council was composed of homeroom representatives who elected Sue Hooks as Secretary and Rod Burrows, Treasurer.

The Class entered a float in the third annual homecoming parade and was awarded an honorable mention prize.

A party was held during the winter after a few money-raising projects were organized. The class sold sweatshirts and sponsored a dance after a home basketball game.

OUR COUNTRY

LAND OF THE FREE

America, O Power benign, great hearts revere your name,
You stretch your hand to every land, to weak and strong the same;
You claim no conquest of the sea, nor conquest of the field,
But conquest for the rights of man, that despots all shall yield.

Chorus:

America, fair land of mine, home of the just and true,
All hail to thee, land of the free, and the Red-White-and-Blue.

America, staunch, undismayed, your spirit is our might:
No splendor falls on feudal walls upon your mountain's height,
But shafts of Justice pierce your skies to light the way for all,
A world's great brotherhood of man, that cannot, must not fall.

America, in God we trust, we fear no tyrant's horde:
There's light that leads toward better deeds than conquest by the sword;
Yet our cause is just, if fight we must until the world be free
Of every menace, breed, or caste that strikes at Liberty.

America, home of the brave, our song in praise we bring—
Where Stars and Stripes the winds unfurl, 'tis there that tributes ring;
Our fathers gave their lives that we should live in Freedom's light—
Our lives we consecrate to thee, our guide the Might of Right.

ARTHUR NICHOLAS HOSKING

BREATHES THERE THE MAN

From "The Lay of the Last Minstrel" CANTO VI

Breathes there the man with soul so dead
Who never to himself hath said,
This is my own, my native land!
Whose heart hath ne'er within him burned,
As home his footsteps he hath turned
From wandering on a foreign strand?
If such there breathe, go, mark him well;
For him no minstrel raptures swell;
High though his titles, proud his name,
Boundless his wealth as wish can claim,
Despite those titles, power, and pelf,
The wretch, concentred all in self,
Living, shall forfeit fair renown,
And, doubly dying, shall go down
To the vile dust from whence he sprung,
Unwept, unhonored, and unsung.

SIR WALTER SCOTT

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

IN FLANDERS FIELDS the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.

JOHN McCRAE

REPLY TO IN FLANDERS FIELDS

OH! SLEEP in peace where poppies grow;
The torch your falling hands let go
Was caught by us, again held high,
A beacon light in Flanders sky
That dims the stars to those below.
You are our dead, you held the foe,
And ere the poppies cease to blow,
We'll prove our faith in you who lie
In Flanders Fields.

Oh! rest in peace, we quickly go
To you who bravely died, and know
In other fields was heard the cry,
For freedom's cause, of you who lie,
So still asleep where poppies grow,
In Flanders Fields.

As in rumbling sound, to and fro,
The lightning flashes, sky aglow,
The mighty hosts appear, and high
Above the din of battle cry,
Scarce heard amidst the guns below,
Are fearless hearts who fight the foe,
And guard the place where poppies grow.
Oh! sleep in peace, all you who lie
In Flanders Fields.

And still the poppies gently blow,
Between the crosses, row on row.
The larks, still bravely soaring high,
Are singing now their lullaby
To you who sleep where poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.

JOHN MITCHELL

THE UNKNOWN SOLDIER

THERE'S A GRAVEYARD near the White House
Where the Unknown Soldier lies,
And the flowers there are sprinkled
With the tears from mother's eyes.

I stood there not so long ago
With roses for the brave,
And suddenly I heard a voice
Speak from out the grave;

"I am the Unknown Soldier,"
The spirit voice began,
"And I think I have the right
To ask some questions man to man.

"Are my buddies taken care of?
Was their victory so sweet?
Is that big reward you offered
Selling pencils on the street?

"Did they really win the freedom
They battled to achieve?
Do you still respect that Croix de Guerre
Above that empty sleeve?

"Does a gold star in the window
Now mean anything at all?
I wonder how my old girl feels
When she hears a bugle call.

"And that baby who sang
'Hello, Central, give me no man's land'—
Can they replace her daddy
With a military band?

"I wonder if the profiteers
Have satisfied their greed?
I wonder if a soldier's mother
Ever is in need?

"I wonder if the kings, who planned it all
Are really satisfied?
They played their game of checkers
And eleven million died.

"I am the Unknown Soldier
And maybe I died in vain,
But if I were alive and my country called,
I'd do it all over again."

BILLY ROSE

What It Means To Me To Be An American

Few things are more important to the civilized or the barbarian than to be proud of his nation. To have been native-born upon the soil of the United States is the greatest inheritance I could have fallen heir to, together with the guidance and environment bestowed upon me by my parents. The Philosopher says luck plays but a small part in the success of man. I choose to believe that possibly by a little luck and surely by the grace of God, it was my good fortune to have been born an American. More than that, I have had the great advantage of being able to appreciate our American heritage and really feel I am a part of it.

Surely none could expect me—just a plain teacher to find the words to narrate, write, or even think about my true feeling of what it means to me to be an American. I am not embarrassed when a chill goes up my back when “Old Glory” is hoisted majestically to the top of a tall pole to the strains of our national anthem. Nor when the soldiers march off to war, do I chastise my conscience for bringing the moisture to my eyes. I make no apologies when my voice fails me as I attempt to quote the last words of a service man who died for his country.

To be an American I must exert much effort and energy to promote and uphold the symbol of Americanism as I see it. I must condemn the policies and philosophies set forth by others which I feel are unAmerican. I must respect my neighbors' ideologies, but not accept them if I am not convinced of their purpose. Because I am an American I shall go to the polls and help in the process of replacing or retaining every elected official who represents me in this government of the people, by the people, and for the people. These are my constitutional rights and duties.

The destiny of our great nation is held in the hands of the Americans who are not complacent or apathetic, but are responsible, informed, and generous time-givers for the general welfare of our country. Above all the true American's major interest cannot be material gain.

As a Christian-American I often think of this Biblical quotation: “What profiteth a man if he gain the world and lose his soul?” Thus by the same reasoning—What have we gained though we amass great wealth and lose our place to live? To me—to be an American, one must accept in good faith tremendous responsibilities in order that he remain a true American.

F. Lowe Edwards
Retired Corry High School Teacher

TABLEAU OF IWO JIMA: David Curtis, Robert Swart, William Johnston, Dennis Bogert, Richard Harrington.

On February 6, 1968, the students of the Corry Area High School were entertained by Mr. F. Lowe Edwards with his original program, "A Pageant of Truth—Old Glory."

The program included a series of tableaux signifying early flags of the United States, World War I slides, and narrations. Iwo Jima was again re-enacted by the students.

During the introduction the following question was asked: "What do you see when Old Glory is majestically hoisted to the top of a tall pole in a brisk breeze?"

Some of the answers included the following: The true American can see a scroll—the Declaration of Independence; he sees faces and actions of great Americans, among them Babe Ruth, Mickey Mantle, Red Grange, Thomas Edison, Robert Frost, Edgar Guest, Ralph Waldo Emerson, and Ernest Hemingway; he remembers that Hitler forgot that we had an extra red stripe on the bottom of the flag which is the symbol of the blood that has been shed for freedom and it means that we will fight, if necessary, to preserve our heritage; and he sees three beautiful colors, including white for purity and justice, blue for truth, honor, and loyalty, and red for valor and strength.

Members of the armed services were honored by tableaux of World War I and II, the Korean conflict and the war in Vietnam.

One of the most stirring tableaux included "Washington at Prayer" at Valley Forge.

Also a tableau depicting the grave of a 20-year old soldier killed in action in Vietnam on February 1, 1966, Pfc. Hiram D. Strickland, who was later honored with the top 1966 Freedom Foundation award for a "last letter" to his parents. "Butch," as Pfc. Strickland signed his last letter to his mother, said in his closing paragraph, "Don't mourn me, Mother, for I am happy I died fighting my country's enemies, and I will live forever in people's minds. I have done what I've always dreamed of. Don't mourn me for I died a soldier of the United States of America. God bless you all and take care. I'll be seeing you in heaven."

In this age of "be in's and be out's," "A Pageant of Truth—Old Glory" was a deeply moving and refreshing program to see.

Mr. Edwards instructing Bruce Dodd as Washington.

What America Means To Me

How many of us stop to think about what it is to be an American? We live from day to day taking advantage of our freedom and not thinking of how thankful we should be.

The majority of people who appreciate Americanism the most are immigrants. Those who have come to America have seen other forms of government and rule. Although there may be several different reasons for coming to America the main reason is freedom.

In religion we have the choice to worship as we please. People do not agree on the same doctrine and they seek a religion that will satisfy them. We should be thankful that we do not have an established religion as some countries do.

Although in many parts of the world people cannot express their opinions, we have the privilege to speak whenever we want to and to whomever we wish. Even though our Constitution states this, it also says that we cannot speak if it will infringe upon other people's rights. The Constitution tries to protect the rights of every American Citizen.

These are only two of the many freedoms America has to offer.

I thank God for the privilege of being an American.

What It Means To Be An American

An American is a person who enjoys the many rights of a democratic society. The Constitution, which was written up in 1789, contained evidence that the people wanted their government to protect "them," not just the officials or the central government itself. Also a Bill of Rights was added to the Constitution in 1791 so as to plainly state the people's protection. The people fought hard and bitter battles for these civil liberties which so many people take for granted today. Modern man finds a way to cover up his great debt to his forefathers by picketing or complaining about today's complex affairs. It's true that he has a right to voice his opinion, but constant criticism will even lessen the quality of the officials' work. If every man would just stop and meditate for a moment he might be able to realize that he had better thank the good Lord for what he has.

On the other extreme are the people who live in war-torn countries of Europe, Asia, and Africa who covet United States citizenship. Those who are naturalized citizens respect their status much more than a natural-born citizen. He realizes the wonderful freedoms which he has acquired and is usually a better overall citizen. Many immigrants are arriving in the United States each day and they should be respected because immigration made this wonderful country what it is.

The backbone of the United States is the Christian church. The belief in God seems to have given the country and its people the best of everything. No country has such a high standard of living or such a plentiful amount of opportunities which might knock on anyone's door. Without Christianity the world would be completely chaotic such as conditions in the communist-ruled countries. Their devastation is inevitable because communism has no room for God, who will thereby pour out all of his wrath upon them.

Therefore I believe that true Americanism is the lump in one's throat and the stirring of one's heart when the National Anthem is played near "Old Glory." This trait of satisfaction and patriotism must be deeply buried in a person's soul before he is able to consider himself a true, red-blooded American.

What America Means To Me

America! Is it just a name? Is it only a word? Is it but a thought of some genius imagination? Ah, no! May God forbid! America is my own beloved country, my native land, and my precious nation.

America is my own beloved country. When I speak of country I think of people, those of the past, present, and future, those famous and those unknown, and of those red, white, black, or yellow, whatever they might be. I think of democratic government; of huge cities with towering skyscrapers and crowded hotels; and of little towns and villages with cozy little cottages and many small children. Also, I think of the many events that have helped make America what it is. Without all the minute details, of which there are so many, a country would not be a country, and America would not be the same. I want to help keep my country the way it is, and I know I, as a good citizen, can do so by asking, "What can I do for my country?"

America is my native land. It is more than just a place containing a network of roads, railroads, rivers, ponds, and trickling brooklets. It is more than just a beautiful scene of lofty mountains and dainty hills, of vast miles of green blanketed land and colorful deserts spotted with cities. Indeed, it is my land, the place where I have lived and am living and probably will live for most of my life. Enfolded in the universe, surrounded by the soft blue skies, and cradled in the rich, golden summer sunsets, my lovely land rests between two great oceans and draws and holds me with a force I can never explain. One of the goals I have set for myself is to someday travel from place to place and put on canvas a replica of some of the wonders America holds for me.

America is my own precious nation, and I am extremely proud of her. As millions of immigrants have surged into New York harbor, the Statue of Liberty has held forth an eager welcome, and all of America has stood in readiness behind her. To those of all races and kindreds America has beckoned, "Come one, Come all." Even so, why shouldn't I be proud of America? Has not her friendliness, her spirit of independence, her courage, and many other factors made her the greatest nation in the world today? And don't all the nations of the world respect the stars and stripes, whether they admit it or not? Since the Revolutionary War, America's flag has waved courageously in the wind. True enough, it has been riddled with bullets and splattered with heroes' blood, but through many battles, and through every war America has entered into, thus far, our flag has lived to rise again, victorious.

America is my nation, my land, and my country. If I had all the rest of the world before me, ready for the taking, I would not trade. No other place can compare with her. I hope and pray that America may always be the leader of nations and that the stars and stripes may always wave bravely in the wind, proclaiming us a free and democratic corner of this tremendous world.

What America Means To Me

America means a lot to me. In America you can live as one. You may live where you please, without being told where to live and where to go. Also America means: Beauty, shown in forests, rivers, lakes, and mountains; Freedom, to live as one whole family and the many Wonderful Enjoyments of America. I just wish that everyone could have a wonderful feeling about America and would learn how to care for the beauties and all of the wonders that America has for us. We should help keep Our America clean and stop being litter bugs.

Americans have the duty and right to live or like the many people of America, its wild life, its natural beauties, its people, and its government.

We should all ask: What does America mean to me? Dona Geer, Grade 9

When our nation was young it was composed of many people of different nationalities and races from all over the world. These people came from their homes so far away for a reason. They all wanted the same thing, freedom. They wanted freedom to do what they thought was right. These brave people fought Indians, unfair governments and many other obstacles in the way of their freedom.

We today are fighting to protect the freedom our ancestors won for us. Our men in Vietnam are dying to reassure us of our freedom. Most Americans take this point of view. But there are those that have their own conception of freedom. Some believe riots and burning of draft cards are the answers to more freedom. To me this is destroying what freedom they do have.

Do Americans of today realize just how fortunate we are to have a free country? Have the Americans of today thought of all the countries of the world under communist rule? Have they really thought of the people of these countries that have died because they wanted the freedom we take so much for granted? I can't honestly say that I believe too many of us have thought about this. I can say this because if we had we wouldn't have the amount of crime in America that we do. When we see our national flag we should remember all the men's blood that was shed. We should remember our ancestors of long ago that fought so gallantly to keep it free.

America truly is a wonderful country to grow up in. We have our freedom along with much more. We have opportunities beyond compare. Any American may choose what he or she would like to become. We may do just about anything we like until we go to the extent of infringing on someone else's freedom.

I am very proud and grateful for this wonderful freedom that America has given me. Pauline Hildum, Grade 9

My home country, of course, is the one and only United States of America. I love my country and every time I hear the National Anthem, a surge of pride rushes through my whole body. Of all the countries of the world the United States is probably the only place where you have freedom to do things as you please. As long as we do have this freedom, I would do almost anything to keep it. I would be proud to be in the armed forces even if all I could do was to help in a hospital. Some people don't like to kill and this is one reason they refuse to fight but they should have better sense than to burn their draft cards. If I were a man, I would just do the best I could to keep my family and friends in America free.

America is beautiful. It has beautiful cities and parks. Its countryside is scattered with fields of grain and rushing rivers and streams. The National Parks supply beauty and entertainment for those who are lucky enough to see them. There are plenty of forests to supply America's people with lumber for houses and furniture and wood for fireplaces for those homes with them.

There are numerous resort areas and places which show our nation's past history. What really gets me is that God made this land for us and I don't think the majority of us are showing Him our appreciation. Anyway, I have a lot to thank Him for and I would like to thank Him now for giving me the opportunity to live and worship here in America. Jennie Murphy, Grade 9

What Others Have Said—

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's
last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars
through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs
bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag
was still there.
Oh, say, does that star-spangled banner
yet wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread
silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze o'er the towering steep,
As if fitfully blows, half conceals,
half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam
In full glory reflected, now shines on the stream.
'Tis the star-spangled banner; oh, long may it wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA Preamble

"We the People of the United States in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

"As the happiness of the people is the sole end of government, so the consent of the people is the only foundation of it."

John Adams

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has washed out their foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may
the heaven-rescued land
Praise the power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God
is our trust!"
And the star-spangled banner in
triumph shall wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the
home of the brave!

"Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

Thomas Paine

"God grants liberty only to those who live it, and are always ready to guard and defend it."

Daniel Webster

"Sail, sail thy best, ship of Democracy.
Of value is thy freight, 'tis not
the Present only,
The Past is also stored in thee."

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote leadership, and to encourage the development of character in high School Students.

As the Society honors those attainments already made and promises a continued effort to achieve excellence in the cherished ideals of the school, its members must possess qualities of Character, Leadership and Service as well as Scholarship.

As always the highlight of the year's activity was the induction ceremony which took place after the end of the first semester.

The Library Club is a little different from other clubs because members work during the week keeping the library in shape. They help students and teachers find books or use the card catalogue.

The work of the library assistant consists of keeping the shelves straightened at all times, working in the periodical room, signing library passes, and doing some filing. It takes the help of four library assistants per period to keep the library running smoothly and in order.

Miss Leora Stranahan is librarian and Mrs. Martha Sprickman helps as clerk.

"Lights, action, places everybody!" shouted the director of "Pot Boiler," the first play presented by the Drama Club, as the actors waited anxiously for the curtains to open. Under the stage and behind the scene, make-up crews painted faces while costume committees checked wardrobes as the actors and actresses scrambled on stage. Meanwhile, on top deck, scenery movement was turned into an art; light switches were manipulated; on-the-ball prompters viewed the stage with watchful eyes; and the characters swung into action. The crowd roared with laughter and applauded enthusiastically.

"A lot of hard work and effort went into that play," stated a proud Drama club member. Committees had to be organized, characters chosen, and rehearsals, rehearsals, rehearsals. The hours after school were spent by Mrs. Howe, club advisor, patiently giving helpful ideas to both characters and crew.

In addition to putting on plays, members read plays at their well attended meetings.

Twenty-four girls made up the Girls' Chorus this year.

At Christmas they sang "How Great Thou Art," "Little Bells," and "Star of the East." Carrying candles and wearing red and white robes, they entered at the back of the auditorium and stood in the outside aisles.

The group also sang at the spring concert and at Baccalaureate services.

This year the girls learned to read music and to sing in three- and four-part harmony.

D.A.R. Award

Sue Grobholz

Miss Sue Grobholz won the Brokenstraw Valley Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution annual good citizen award.

Those honored by this award are chosen each year by their fellow students and are approved by their teachers as possessing, to a high degree, the qualities of dependability, service, leadership, and patriotism.

Sue has won the regard and admiration of her fellow students and her teachers as a leader in extracurricular activities and high scholastic achievement.

We would like to congratulate her on winning this award and extend our best wishes for a very successful future.

School Treasurers

Rosemary Neckers, the School Treasurer, assisted by Lynne Grove, issued checks and made deposits of large sums of money. The various organizations counted on them to keep their accounts in balance.

Working in close cooperation with the school treasurer was Mary Walsh, Secretary of the Athletic Association, who kept account of the incoming money from the various sports. Together they worked in harmony to keep the financial records of the school accurate and up to date. Rosemary and Lynne worked under the supervision of Mr. William Miller and Mary under that of Mr. Lou Hanna.

 Advisor Mr. Max L. Bennink

Providing pep and inspiration for our basketball games, wrestling matches and pep assemblies was the prime accomplishment of the Pep Band during the 1967-68 school year.

These musicians usually have a background in the Elementary, Junior High, and Senior High Bands which indicates that they have a "working" knowledge of music.

Wrestling

The highlight of this season was Corry domination of the Christmas tournament when 12 of the 13 boys qualified for the finals. Everyone placed with 8 Champions, 4 runners-up, and one third place.

Our record was improved over last year's and we are looking forward to bigger and better things in the future.

Wrestling is on the move and shows definite signs of taking its place in the sports program of Corry High School.

The Girl's Athletic Association consisted of Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls interested in sports. The group was under the direction of Mrs. Lewis.

They met each Tuesday after school in the gymnasium where they participated in many sports which included basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, golf, and tumbling.

The group looks forward to next year when they will again have the opportunity to use the gymnastic facilities of our school.

In Review INTERNATIONAL EVENTS

1. British hippies claim that their aim is different from that of American hippies... they don't want to "drop out" of society, but to stay in and change it.

2. French President Charles DeGaulle stirred up a lot of controversy during 1967—here he explains why he feels Britain should not be a Common Market member.

3. Soldiers of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division rest atop Hill 1338 following a fierce battle with the North Vietnamese for the hill in the Dak To area.

4. Israeli soldiers fly their flag from a mosque in the Sinai desert captured by the Israelis during the short-lived Arab-Israeli war in June of 1967.

5. Waving red-colored booklets of Mao's quotations, pro-communist Chinese swarm in front of the Governor's House during May demonstrations in Hong Kong.

6. Mrs. Svetlana Alliluyeva, daughter of the late Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, was a bit surprised that her defection created so much stir in the U. S.

6

10

7. In June, Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin came to the United States to address the UN about the Arab-Israeli war and later talked with President Johnson.

8. An Army vehicle bears the casket of former West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer from Cologne Cathedral, April 25, following a Requiem Mass.

9. Suits came back into fashion during 1967. This one was designed by Lito Manalang for a young fashion house, the year-old British Moderns of New York.

10. This wide angle view of the moon's hidden side was taken on August 6, 1967 and transmitted back to the Jet Propulsion Lab in Pasadena, California.

11. Heavy monsoon rains turned most of South Vietnam into a quagmire during the summer of 1967. Here, U.S. marines prepare to board a Chinook helicopter.

12. President Johnson, shown here in Vietnam, staunchly defended the nation's participation in the Vietnam war despite widespread protests and demonstrations.
