CONFERENCE

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL

HOURS ON END

Listening is a magnetic and strange thing. A creative force...when we are listened to, it creates us. Makes us unfold and expand. Ideas actually begin to grow within us and come to life...when we listen to people there is an alternating current, and this recharges us so that we never get tired of each other...and it is this little creative fountain inside us that begins to spring and cast up new thoughts and unexpected laughter and wisdom...well, it is when people really listen to us, with quiet fascinated attention, that the little fountain begins to work again, to accelerate in the most surprising way.

A Walk In The Clouds

"A Walk Through The Clouds" is at a halt for just a second while time is taken to admire the beauty of this special night for these soon-to-be seniors.

While "Under The Stars," last year's prom queen, Kyli Sitterly passed on her crown to Allison Jawdy; whereas Josh Daniels became the first ever prom king for Corry High School at this year's Jr. Sr. Prom. The crowning was followed by a night to remember as we took "A Walk Through The Clouds."

Jim and Andrea use this magical evening to stay close to one another.

1999 Prom Court

Front: Tori Niggel and John Cragg
Row 2: Monica Nichols, Val Hammond, Katie Bloom, Lisa Ross, Penny Johnson, Tom Winchell, Matt Zerbe, Shane Durlin, Devin Tasker, Dave Schwabenbauer

Sam is here to brighten up everyone's day as he encounters this night. He is surrounded by his friends and classmates during his "Walk in the Clouds." Many look fondly back on Prom as a time to remember when reminiscing.

Having a date for the Prom may be one important item at this time of year, but it's not the only one. It's also nice to have close friends there to share great times and memories.

These two show us that Prom is a great night to get close to that someone in your life. Special times like these make lasting memories in years to come.

A lot of time and preparation are put into this enchanted evening. Many students attend and share good times with their friends one final time before graduation.

Another memory in the making. Kellie, Danielle, Amy, Adrian, and Erica are making the very most of this special night by sharing it with their closest friends.

A friend is someone who lets you have total freedom to be yourself.
-Jim Morrison

Summer, 1999

Matt is making the most of his vacation by just hanging out with friends. Summer is the time to lay back, relax and store up energy for the coming school year.

A summer's night of playing putt-putt let's you take in the scenery and just enjoy some relaxation time with some friends.

Ellen and Amanda get close after looking over their cultural differences. Actually these two got together with a group of their friends at a costume party to celebrate summer in their own special way.

Even throughout the summer students dedicate themselves on improving skills. These band members put up with the heat for just a little more practice time.

Bet you didn't know that apple trees were good for more than just supplying us with apples. These girls know how to take advantage of the less obvious things in life and the tree adds a picturesque backdrop.

Amber adventures out into the woods. She's geared up with those ever-famous, rubber galoshes. Summer is a time to break out and enjoy all life has to offer. Take a minute and look around at what life has available.

Hannah, Nick and Lindsay take the time for one last summer adventure. Many students and adults alike use the summer as a regenerating time to prepare for the upcoming year.

Julia and Jody let all the praise bring smiles to their faces after becoming state runners-up in softball. Summers aren't just times for lazing about in the sun and these two prove it.

Don't squeeze too hard Ryan! Friends spend alot of time together during the summer months. Sometimes they get on each other's nerves, but that's not really the case here with these two.

Country Trails

Corry trails have taken you this far, what

...they have given me the opportunity to go beyond the traditional Amish eighth grade education.

Adrian Byler

...they have prepared me for a rich and prosperous life in the occupation of cow tipping.

April Webber

...that I will always know to keep my head up high. Also, to listen to more of the good, rather than all the bad, because when you feel good about yourself and believe in yourself, you can do anything!

Kara Burrows

In this picture our twelve members of the court get a final chance to represent their classes during the 1999 Homecoming football game against Girard. All senior high students had a chance to vote for their choice among the six senior candidates to become Homecoming Queen. This year the students' choice was Kara Burrows, daughter of Jeff and Jan Burrows. Congratulations Kara!

Chandra's all smiles after being elected to represent her 9th grade class. It seems that she could get used to this kind of excitement.

Senior candidates, Kellie and Jodi, enjoy their last year on court.

Take Me Home

have they prepared you for in the future?

A horse drawn wagon gives a pleasant lift to the girls as the crowd watches.

Kara Burrows is crowned 1999 Homecoming Queen before her friends and family. This is surely a night Kara will never forget.

...to continue my education and hopefully become a successful accountant.

Kellie Clark

...they have allowed me to realize that I should always shoot for my best and to know that no matter where I end up I can always call Corry home.

Jodi Frisina

...they have prepared me for a very fulfilling and happy life far, far away from Corry, Pennsylvania.

Denise Brown

Country Trails Take Me Home...

Hee Haw '99

Hat Day was once again a big success. Lucas shows off his favorite fedora for us. Hat Day joins other "theme" days that help the students and faculty get involved with the Homecoming activities.

Hard work and dedication of each and every student make Spirit Week what it is. Student involvement is just as good or even better than previous years.

Some people are really proud to be students at Corry High. They put a lot of time and thought dressing each day of Spirit Week. Great job Ashley!

Even middle school students get involved in Spirit Week activities. Tina shows off her hat with a smile. This day is a favorite of students because they can wear hats all day long.

Sarah's a natural on Cowboy Day. She looks like she's been rustled right out of the old west.

Erin, another sports fan, shows her love for the Bulls on Sports Day. Sports Day is always a big success because fans will always show their "true colors" when it comes to supporting their favorite teams.

On the third day of Spirit Week students were asked to wear sports apparel. These ladies did a great job of showing support for their favorite teams. Amanda, Jody, Lacey, and Melissa smile pretty for our camera.

Ryan gets decked out in his western finery. Homecoming is a time when everyone comes back to his or her hometown and renews friendships and acquaintances.

Is that Erica and Carleen? Yup, it sure is! They tried to blend in by wearing those shirts on orange and black day. We don't think it worked too well. Homecoming is a time that makes you proud that you're from a small town.

Corry Area School District Takes A "Bite" Out Of Cancer

Relay For Life

Every year the whole nation puts time aside to help cancer victims and survivors as well as their families. On June 25th and 26th, forty local teams gathered together at Corry Area Middle-High School to participate in a 24-hour relay. This year, in Corry alone, $58,000 was raised for the American Cancer Society. Throughout the day, numerous entertaining activities were held for everyone of all ages. With a donation, a luminary in honor and memory of friends and loved ones was placed around the track to encourage the participants.

CASD sponsored multiple teams for this year's Relay For Life. Teams came from the elementary schools and the high school. Everyone from faculty and support staff to maintenance and custodians supported this year's efforts at raising the $58,000 for cancer research from the Corry area. Community members and area businesses were also part of the fun and activities surrounding this community event. Fundraising took all forms and included the very young to the not-so-very young. Well done everyone!

Twenty years from now...

I would hope that my military career in the P.A. Army National Guard would have taken off by then, and at least be a Sergeant. I hope to be married with two kids.

Butch Ferrara

I will be a successful rehabilitation teacher. I will have a house in the country, with a couple pleasure horses. I might train horses. I will have ten dogs and a swimming pool. For fun I will go canoeing on my own lake. Of course you never know what the future holds. Anything can happen.

Shelley Rhodes

Sliggy, I'll be a retired professional soccer player married to Jeri with no kids. We will be living in my underground split-level house design that is built right next to a dormant volcano on the deserted island of Mt. Sliggy. I work out of my office at home, while Jeri takes our private jet into work everyday. Every now and then we throw huge parties with keg trucks and all of our friends come over. My friends including Kyle, Dale, Andy, Gary, Aaron, Jon, Dann, Dave, and Fat Craig.

Josh Chase

My husband and I will still be madly in love with 3 or 4 wonderful children (maybe a set of twins). We will have a home in one of the Carolinas, living off of sunshine and happiness and of course my husband's 6 figure salary! My sweetheart and I will run away to romantic far off places often, and always take the time to stop at Casey M's because she throws the best parties. All of the gang will be there, and we'll have a blast catching up on old times. Denise and I will always be best buds, saying "I'll protect you" to cheer each other up.

Sara Peterson

I will be rich and still living in Elgin. I'll be married to B.N. and we will have two kids. We will still go for long slow rides with JH and EC. I'll still be driving my mom's car, hiding coolers in the back for are wild weekends at B.N's Parents Camp.

Nate Clark

I will be happily married with three beautiful children. Though I will have some hectic weeks with my family, I'll still make a getaway with "The Girls" on our smashing hit tour "Kellie Does Kansas." Of course I'll be the opening act, while my backup girls emerge from the floors, in their tight black leather suits, jumping wildly through rings of fire! So keep this in mind and in December 2020 you can buy our tickets to see the big show!

Kellie Clark

Sliggy, I'll be turfing the Honda with Grinder, making millions, and will own a Viper. I'll have a wife, 3 kids, 3 dogs, a donkey and a chicken.

Dale McCray

I plan on being in some kind of business, so I can afford a family with 2 kids and a husband living in Alaska. I would live in a huge Igloo. I could freeze, but eventually I'll unfreeze. At times I would come back to Corry to visit my good friends, such as MF, JS, BS, KM, PB, JS, and TF.

Jill Wojtecki

I'll probably be still doing landscaping, cutting trees, and helping the family out. I'd like to be putting in sprinklers in Erie and running heavy equipment with Andy S. I also would like to be farming still at Hammond's.

Kevin Jaggi

I hope to be living in Michigan with LB with two kids on a farm.

Shannon Hicks

I plan to be happily married with two beautiful children and a wonderful husband. I would like to live in the mountains in a log cabin with a pool. Hopefully, I will be a practicing in criminal psychologist. Although my lifestyle will leave me very busy, I will still have time for "The Girls." In my spare time I plan to be on tour with "Kellie Does Kansas," doing the one hit single "There's no place like home!"

Amy Rushin

I'll be married to Bradley Pitt while taking care of our four beautiful children. I'll be a very busy lady but I will always have time for the girls. I will fly them out to Hollywood every weekend and then will travel worldwide on our "Kellie Does Kansas" tour. Of course KC will be the opening act, followed by the rest of us girls making our entrance by firing ropes and rings of fire. Of course dressed in our skin tight black leather suits. It may sound kinky and all but the only way to find out is to come to our show. Tickets go on sale December 2020.

Erin Van Guilder

I will be in charge of my own advertising company. I will be doing the commercials and ads for the big name companies. I will live in New York City with my husband and two kids. I will remember the great times with E Band CB on the football field and BJH, CB, and KP during the years. I will remember KB, DV, ES and AR at work. It was the best.

Cathy Wilson

I plan to have a successful career in somewhere else than Corry. I would like to get married and have children. I will still be going out having fun and complaining with my cousins.

Kerrin Wilson

I will be happily married to my favorite guy, Josh. We will have a few kids and I will be a successful Physical Therapist. My husband and I will be rich and own houses all over the world. The house we will visit the most will be our big hut on our own beach in the Virgin Islands. Every summer we will come home and I will throw the annual PROCTOR LA ND bash! The whole gang will be there. We will have our usual mud throwing war, swing on the tarzan rope and jump on the tramp. Aaron, Kyle, Adrian and I will play pygmies in the pond just like the good old days. To sum it up in 20 years I hope to be a happy, successful and a loving woman.

Erica Proctor

I will be happily married to a wonderful husband and living out my dream as a Sports Medicine Doctor. I will also have two great children. Every morning I'll wake up to a beautiful sunrise from my beach house window, overlooking the North Carolina coast. I still will keep in touch with my friends and still doing stuff with the gang. At least once a month I'll make a trip up North to ride 4-wheelers and hang out with the gang at Proctor Land.

Danielle Johnson

I'll still be living in Iowa with AB and BL helping AB milk her cows and plow her fields.

Michelle Leek

I will be living near the ocean in California working as a criminal psychologist and driving a Jeep Wrangler. I'll be happily married to Josh with maybe one or two kids. Every year my friends and I will have an annual rendezvous in the sweet town of Corry to reminisce.

Jerri Ohmer

I will be making a lot of money and married with a couple of kids. I will be living nowhere near Corry. I will come back about once a month to cruise the strip and bump with Chad and Ty.

Aaron Cosco

I am hoping to be married to Bl and opening my own chiropractic office. Having some kids and having lots of cows, cats and dogs.

Ashley Bosko

I will live in San Diego, skateing everyday and have a board company.

Cody Craker

I'll probably be wrestling as a lucador in a small Western Federation and making an independent record. God only knows.

Lucas Johnson

I'll be living on a big dairy farm in the country. I'll still be hunting, fishing and watching my friends blow things up.

Brian Gates

Throughout high school I've learned many times that nothing ever turns out perfect. You can't live your life holding back attempting to make all your dreams work out exact. How you deal with wrinkles in your dreams will either help you grow or tear you down. I've learned to keep my expectations simple and let God lead the way. I do want to live in a log cabin, whether it maybe with myself or a house full of children. And I never want to get fat or feel so self-conscious that I wear too much makeup.

Caroline Hoachlander

I plan to be living in a suburban area outside of New York. I will have two kids and a beautiful wife with a big house. I will be a successful broadcaster. I will be on TV everyday, either on a news show or in a movie. I might even make a movie.

Lucas Jones

I see myself living in a nice house in South Carolina. I will be a pilot for some big airlines flying all over the world. Hopefully I will be with my one true love AS. Maybe have a kid or two. On my vacations I will return home to go snowboarding and play bingo at the one and only Sparty fair with Josh Ongley.

Jim Marcy

I will be wherever I am supposed to be. Hopefully it will be some where warm.

Eric Skalos

I'll be 37 and married to Jessica Benward. We'll live in a big log cabin in Colorado. We'll have a Saint Bernard named Pongo and a cat named Tondon. I'll be playing professional baseball while she's at home taking care of the kids, Pongo and Tondon.

Nathan Goodwill

Uh huh... yeah, jigga... I'll be living on a beach in a hut named Jaba. Living on sponge cake, watch'n the sun bake.

Aaron Grinder

I'll be teaching at an elementary school. I will be maybe married with no more than four kids. I will be living somewhere with a warm climate but not too hot. At least once a week NB and I will be meeting up with our sweeties Kevin and Christian at Arby's. I will never forget all the good times with MD, NB, AA and our wonderful teachers Queen Joy and Old Wise Lady Catalfu.

Kelly Tarbell

I'm still going to be with my "Pumpkin" and our best "BUD" Kreamer. I will have a beautiful home with a job working as an elementary teacher. I'll be remembering all the good times with NB, KT, AA, Queen Joy and Old Wise Lady Catalfu in PC.

Missy Davis

I will be a starting center for the Seattle Seahawks. In the off-season I will be co-bouncer with Jeffrey at Nick's FUBU club. I will go to OC with my boys Nick, Tom, and Jeff.

Jim Wascak

I will be at a ceremony in L.A. The Lakers who drafted me seventh in the overall draft, will be retiring my number 43. After the ceremony I'll check the Wall Street Journal to see how my stocks in FUBU are doing. A few years after graduation Ken Bronke and I bought half the company and are rolling in the dough after we introduced our new mesh suits with FUBU and 05 on the back. We made business suits PJ/FT. I will have a beautiful wife, three kids, and three dogs.

Nick Mead

I will be married to my love, Michael Crosby. We will have two beautiful children and live in a big house in the country. I will always have enough time to go shopping every weekend with my best friend, Desiree, Apps.

Lori Bowen

I should be graduated from college and working in a big, fancy hotel as a manager. I would be earning tons of money. I would be married to my boyfriend, Mike who I love so much. I hope to have at least 2 kids. Also, I would still keep in touch with all my friends. I will never forget them.

Nicloe Wawrejko

I'm not sure what I'm doing tomorrow, but hopefully I'll be a happily married lawyer with a perfect child that acts nothing like me. I'll even make enough money to sustain my shopping desire providing I've paid off my student loans by then! If I'm lucky my tight black leather suit will still fit for the Kellie Does Kansas reunion tour.

Kim Meerhoff

I will own a Hooter's Franchise, and be enjoying my life by doing what ever makes me happy each day. I'll live deep into the woods so I can have lots of friends come over, and enjoy ourselves. Also to rip it up on wheelers.

Jason Bunce

More to well - populated, lively city where I will perform music and open a Music and Art shop.

Dave Downey

I see myself as a successful 38 year old man with a beautiful and intelligent wife and 3 kids in N. or S. Carolina. Also, every other weekend, I'll sneak out of the house for a "secret mission" with the guys: DJ, Chase, French, Grinder, Haynes, Craker, and Munther, and end up playing a skins match of putt-putt at Peak 'N' Peak, where Grinder and Haynes will lose all of their money. I almost forgot we'll take the "race truck," go turfin and finally go swimming at the hole.

Andy Joy

I will be living in Georgia in a big country house. I will own lots of land to hunt and fish off of. I will be a marketer for the Chrysler Company. Taking one of my many trucks driving around my fields. I will be happy, living on my own keeping in touch with KP, in my free time making peach pies for everyone in the little group.

Kerry Daley

I see myself settled down in a quiet little town. I will be working as an elementary teacher. At that time I will have two kids and married to a perfect husband. But on weekends I will still be out parting with my friends, especially Tina.

Amanda Trisket

I would like to be living in Canada, running my own business.

Mike Holby

Nick Mead and I will have bought the FUBU Gear Corporation. We will wear mesh suits with a big 05 on the back of our suit jackets everyday. If that dream doesn't pan out, maybe I'll use my education. Hopefully I'll be a successful journalist living comfortably and happily, but only if the FUBU idea doesn't work out.

Ken Bronke

I will be 38 ... with bigger spiders.

Ryan Hudings

I will be the most electrifying man in all of sports entertainment. Seriously, I think I will be working as a chef somewhere in Pennsylvania. I hope to be married and have a couple kids. As a chef, maybe I'll run a hotel or a large restaurant.

Philip Gluena

I will be living in a warm climate with a good looking man in a big house with kids. At least once a week KT and I will be meeting up with our hotties Kevin and Christian at Arby's. Hopefully I will be running my own day care. Never forgetting the good times with KT, MD, AA in PC with our motherly teachers, Old Wise Lady Catalfu and Queen Joy.

Natalie Bird

Come now, you that say, "Today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and stay there a year, and buy and sell, and make a profit," where as you know not what shall be on the next day. For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appears for a little time, and then vanishes away. For you ought to say, "If the Lord wills, we shall live, and do this, or that" But now you rejoice in your boastings. All such rejoicing is evil. Therefore, to him that knows to do good, and does it not, to him it is sin. James 4:13-17. This isn't said to sound cool. It's from the word of God, it's wisdom, believe it. If you don't, read it again and again until you do. The point is, God is awesome! I plan on being right where he leads me ... What about you? Right now I'm thinking hi and thanks to all of my close friends, my funk soul brotha, my main man in college Triple H, those who like football, and those who like soccer. God bless you all.

Randy McCray

I see myself living in Shawnee Village Trailer Park with the biggest double - wide trailer there can be. I will be by Jody and Jerry Sweet. I'll be married to Amanda with my 2 kids, Dustin JR and Kenneth. I'll be the proud owner of D G'S Auto Wrecking.

Dustin Hawthorth

I see myself doing whatever. Hopefully I'll reach my dreams of becoming an illustrator winning ten millions dollars, but what do I know. I just might as well end up at a deadbeat job. What ever happens I wish everyone a good life from now and maybe I'll have a little more hope or confidence twenty years from now. I'll just have to wait and see. So, so long suckers!

Amelia Beebe

I will be married to Chad Braswell, with two children. I'm not sure where I'll be living, but I will definitely come back to be with friends and maybe go camping for old times. And on my spare time, I will definitely get ready to go on the "Kellie Does Kansas" tour with all the girls!

Kara Burrows

I will be making big bucks somewhere in the world. I will be married to my beautiful wife, Kara Burrows and have two kids. I will come back to Corry every once in a while and cruise the strip bumping with Aaron Cosco and Tyler Weidner in my 2020 Lexus.

Chad Braswell

Yeah, Yeah Jigga what, I will be living it up making a whole lot of babies with my woman. I probably won't be rich, I mean lets face reality what's the chance of me the punk always screwing off in class. But you no what they say a blind man with no hands and only one ear only knows half of what a man with one eye and one leg. Peaseeeeee.

Gary Whiteley

I will be partying with my brother. I will have a good job married living in the country and driving a Z-71 Chevy.

Nick Martin

I will be far, far, away from Corry!! I will be happily married to the QNE I love, with two beautiful kids, ten big dogs, fifteen horses, fifty cats and any other animal I can think of. I will be living in a country home out in BFE!! Maybe I'll come back to Corry once in awhile to visit some family and friends.

Julie Stanbro

Starting out with a job in computer science, I will have enough money to develop a film director career. I will pack up my belongings and move out to California and make movies with fire-safety technician Ricketts. Jodi Foster will be in every movie even though she'll be extremely old by the time I make it big. Yet, if all things fail, I'll work with Grinder at the local BLINGO hall. That way they won't be able to kick us out for being underage. Either way, I will be close to my high school friends and of course my family.

Thomas Gatesman

I am going to live on a big ranch with lots of horses, dogs, and other animals. I will have a big motocross track in the front yard. I will be a contractor and on weekends I will be going to race my fourwheeler and going to watch my wife barrel race at rodeo's around the world.

Larry Scouten

I will be living in South Carolina working for CandJ construction I will be married to a beautiful loving wife, Adrianna. We will have two kids and living in a big house that I built. After I have my house built we will make a huge ramp park near by for all the young bike riders to enjoy. I will be the owner of this ramp park.

Darin Yoder

I see myself happily married to the man of my dreams. We will have four beautiful children and live in a beautiful country mansion. Obviously my husband and I will be multimillionaires and we will take exotic vacations every weekend. A few times a year I'll join my friends for the worldly famous "Kellie Does Kansas" tour and break out my tight fitting leather pants. Most importantly I'll be happy and healthy with a family who loves me and a job that pays good!

Ruthan Skelton

I see myself part owner of a successful business doing what ever makes me happy. I will live in the country and have a big house and a garage. My garage will be full of all my wheelers and hot rods. I will have a family and hopefully keep in touch with my friends.

Chad Caldwell

I will be living happily out in the country somewhere. I may or may not be married, however. I will be happily occupied. I'll be kicking back with the guys, playing my guitar, and partying. I'll be coming back to visit Corry to visit the commonwealth, and ride exotic animals with B and M. I won't be rich, I won't be poor. I won't be famous but I will be known. Life will be just how it should be.

Denise Crosby,

I will be surrounded by the things that stimulate me and those who move me. I will live life to it's fullest. I will have great expectations for myself and live a life less ordinary than most I know. At 38 I will still be 18, and ready to party.

Tucker Schreckengost
I'll be 38. Cruising around the world on a cruise boat called the fascination with Cristin and no kids. Sipping champagne while lying on the nude deck getting tan. Back at home, in ????, hopefully the apartment will be holding up. My boss, AC will be expecting me at work. AC is probably married to the 2nd most beautiful girl in the world. I'm married to the most beautiful girl in the world (Cristin).

Tyler Weidner.
I will be running my own successful veterinarian clinic in New Smyrna Beach, Florida. I'll be happily married with only two kids. In my spare time, I will enjoy watching my husband surf and helping my kids build sand castles on the beach. I will watch the sun rise over the ocean every morning from the balcony of my dome house. During the night I will occasionally take a stroll down the beach to collect thought.

Billie Hayes
I do not know were I will be in twenty years. I just hope I am not in prison or selling underwear on the black market, but if I could choose I would want what almost everyone else wants to have. I want a wife, a family and a job that pays good and not a lot of work is involed.

Adam Moore
I will still be living in Corry. I'll have a big garage filled with all kinds of hot rods and Harleys. I will be divorced a few times and have two boys. I'll have a car dealers license so I can buy cars cheap and sell them for lots of money. I will still party every weekend with all my friends I went to school with. I'm going to own an ATV motocross track and race my 2020 Honda 400 EX on it. If not all the above I will probably be in jail for something dumb.

Tim Hall
I will be living in the country, far away from any amish. Most likely, I will own a number of first generation Cameros and Firebirds. On my spare time my friends and I will get together and party along with our women.

Warren Byler
I will raise my ten fat babies on my salary from being a Co-Boincer with Big Jim at Nick's FUBU club. Still making annual road trips to OC with my boys Jim, Nick and TJ.

Jeff Ricketts
I'll be living on Pebble Beach married to MM. Josh Wolf will be my caddy when I'll be making millions on the PG/1 tour. But, I can't wait to see all the kids in the CC on my trips to Corry, if their still living here.

Kevin Xander
I'll be living in a house with my 357 pound woman that beats me while she is eating chicken and watching the Jerry Springer Show. Yeah right, I'll probably own my own construction company.

Bill Lamber
I plan on living somewhere other than Corry and have a good job. I also plan on being married with children that will mostly likely be driving me CRAZY!

Stephanie Spitman
I plan to be living in a small house with a small family. I also plan to have a full time job to support my family.

Mike Ploss

I will be happily married to Brad, the man of my dreams. I will be living in a gorgeous house having the time of my life doing whatever makes me happy. I'll have a job working with computers and it will make me very rich. I'll probably have two-three spoiled rotten kids. I'll still have Prettie, my beautiful cat. Julie and I will get together every wekkend while Brad plays basketball. I know that I will be happy having everything I've ever wanted.

Amanda Vandervoort
I will live far away from all my Amish neighbors. I will own millions of dollars worth of stock in the newly owned FUBU company. Maybe I'll do some interactive deer spotting with CC and PM on th weekends.

Jay Brenner
I see myself living in Italy with two kids and my husband. I'll still be hanging out with Nichole, Amanda, Ashley, Kristy and the gang thinking of what we did over the summers. I can't forget Erin Sahl and going to the fairs of '99 yee haw! I can't forget Ben Braswell he's gong to be my future husband.

Heather Richardson
My future tells me that I will be in Colarado dragging my cousin Joel with me. I will have all guy roomates cause I can't deal with chicks. Back in Corry at the city park rumors will still be started about Daven and I. But yet we will be no where around as usual. My pal Jared will be living with me and we will always be having fun. We will all be millionaires and laughing at the idiots that thought we were not capable of doing something like that due to not being normal like everyone else at Corry Area High School.

Ranelle Bounds
I will be a successful, yet heart broken stockbroker on WalStreet. I'll be stubborn and turning down every man taht walks my way because I'll be on independent upper class women making my way to the top. I'll be bitter about life without my Willy44.

Becky Sander
I hope to be a successful electrician. I will live in a huge house way back in the woods. Five horses including Harvey will rome my 200 acre ranch. I'm on my way down my two mile drive way to another horse show, with my huge four door power stroke disel Ford truck and my 50 foot horse trailer. As the sweet sound of nitty gritty is drowned out by some guy flying by on a 250.

Heather Mick
I will be living in Wyoming with my wife and kids. I will be an environmentalist and have a huge cattle ranch with many exotic animals. And knowing that Woj will no longer be harrasing kids in the hall.

Jason Mitchell
I will be CEO of my own company. It shall make me billions of dollars that I shall invest in medicine and my own business. I see myself also writing novel books on my free time. When I myself become rich, I shall own a blimp casino to fly and gamble anywhere. But overall I shall help my family and friends out in any money problems.

Timothy Soderberg
I will be in the funny farm after hearing these phrases and questions.... "Who's smarter?" "Can you read each othe's mind?" "Who is the evil one?" "How old are you and how old is your sister?" "Are you sisters?" And the top three "Are you Amy or Jenny?", "Do you feel each other's pain?" and finally "Are you twins?" God, why do people ask such stupid questions like these? Think if you heard these questions over a zillion times, wouldn't you be a little crazy?

Jennifer Beebe

I plan to own and operate a child care center with Laura Johnson. The name of it will be J love and Jlaas Day Care Center. I also plan to be happily engaged, living with, or married to my boyfriend Chet, Allen J love and living on a ranch in Corry somewhere.

Melissa Burnett
I'll be living it up far from Corry, with my established dental practice. KMX will be on tour and I'll still hold down the rhymes for XMA/N and Stridge. I'll be married with two kids and a really hot wife. I'll go to Dave Matthews Reunion concerts every summer with KX, NC and JK.

Josh Wolf
I will probably have everything I need to be a pharmacist, but won't be able to leave the good life at DOQ. TT would finally be over her memory loss after taking her One a Day for 20 years. I will still be calling Becky BP and making wishes that will never come true. I will still hacc my Kitty Precious and have a cute doggy too. PM will still be there for me every day and will finally swear!

April Webber
I hope to be living comfortably in Amsterdam and holding a good job in advertising. I hope to be really happy and live in a decent home. I also would like to be surrounded by all my friends and also having a lot of fun. I don't ever want to be bored.

Kristie Chase
I will have a job as an education teacher working somewhere in the south. I will be married to a great man and have two wonderful children. Every year in December I will meet up with LD and we will come back home to the Alumni meet. As we warm up, we will sing all of our old songs we used to during practice. Every night on the phone I will talk to my best friend Jodi and make plans to go to the Notre Dame, Oregon game! Sometime we will make a trip back to Erie to finish our interrupted dance with the "Braves." I hope to be a very happy and successful woman!

Amanda Brown
I will be living in Kentucky with my gorgeous husband and two kids. I will be a very successful vet and every now and then I'll check up on KP's Horses. While I am back in town, Jen and I will model for the fashion consultant of St. Thomas to earn a few extra bucks. I will curise around with BO, CB, and MF in the woodchuck. I will stay with BJ1 where we will sleep outside on the trampoline. Then I'll go back home to my happy wonderful life. Oh - ya and in my spare time I will save whales and protect the ozone layer.

Suzanne Migliallio
I will own a big house on my 100 acre ranch in Colorado. I will come back to Corry every summer to visit Jack and Pepe, and to race them through the streets of Sparty doging Amish buggies. There will be a party every weekend at my cabin and everyone from Corry is invited.

Dave Sekerak
Thunder Ridge Farms will have nationally known registered Brown Swiss Cows that will win in the showering and produce enough milk to pay the bills. I will own and operate Thunder Ridge Farms.

Clint Miller
After graduating from college I will then go to a proffesional wrestling school were I will become one of the greatest wrestlers of all time.

David Keem

I would have graduated from the University of Tennessee at Knoxville, with a degree in sports marketing. I will be playing in the WNBA for the Houston Comets or Washington Mystics and hopefully have a WNBA Championship ring. During the off season I will be doing marketing for the WNBA. I will still keep in touch with my friends when I'm not playing basketball.

Jennifer Smith
I'll be pushing 40. I guess people might say they see themselves two different ways, realistically and unrealistically. Well, realistically I'll be comfortably set with money. I'll be raising two kids, with my husband who will be retiring from pro ball. I'll be taking jogs with my St. Bernard, Pongo and studying the life of the underworld. Unrealistically, I'll be so rich Bill Gates would be jealous, and definitely unmarried. A son who will grow up to be president and change the world. Swimming with the dolphins and partying with my little sister, urd. I guess that about wraps it up. Sounds good to me. But who knows a lot can happen in 20 years.

Jessica Benward
My toes will still be webbed and I'll still be able to do tricks with my tongue. I will be a best selling author living my life ever so successfully in a van down by the river. AW will still have problems (most dealing with air freshness in tents), but she'll still be there for me and help me run my chain of Dairy Mart Stores while we both make millions. I'll use part of my profits to buy an exceedingly large closet in which I will spend my time doing carpus things. Except for unswearing (Right, or so I think so).

Paola Miller
I'll be living in the south and be happily married to a wonderful man and have four children. I may be working as a speech pathologist but I'd be just as content as being a wife and mother. I'll come back to PA to visit friends and family as much as I can. I'll talk to Brownie everynight and we will plan our trip to ND to watch them play Oregon. We will also pick a day to come back to Eric and continue our interrupted dance with "braves."

Jodi Frisina
I will be a great physical therapist living somewhere warm with the man of my dreams. I will live in a big house with three children and a couple of dogs. Remembering all the fun with EB and CB at the football games, and also the fun at Quality with DV, ES, KI, AK, JD, and JW.

Lisa Wilson
I will be married to my little sweetie, Amy Ploss. I will be retiring from professional baseball and living on a ranch in Alabama. I will have two children and have a bull riding school. I will have a second house in Florida and invite Matt Rob, Josh Jukes, and Josh Wolf down to party and golf. If none of that works out I will live in a shack with Williams and Goodwill.

Ken Shreve
I will be doing my own thing. I will be married to Keanu Reeves, living in Buffalo, going to the Buffalo Bills games every Sunday. I will be working as a teacher raising my six kids. By then I will be laughing at y'all that thought Tupac was dead because by then it will be known that he's alive. I will look back and reminisce about the days cruising around with SM, BO and MF on the bad side of Corry, but most of all I will be keeping it real.

Carrie Bielak
I will be a Gym teacher and I hope life will be a peach.

Jason Aikens

I will have turned all of the old elementary school buildings into my own personal chocolate factories. They will be run by thousands of blue smurfs, not those scary little umpas! Sara P and I will be taking yearly trips to the Holocaust Museum, stopping to watch the Broadway show, Cats. Of course, I'll be happily married with five kids, living in a huge house SP has designed for me. All of the girls would come to my house every year for our Christmas party so we wouldn't have to spend it in some mansion owned by people we don't even know.

Denise Brown
I'll still be hanging with my boys, JD, PB, JC and my brother on the weekends. By then I'll be married with two children one boy and one girl. My husband and I will both be pulling in a 6 figure salary, living the high life in some other small town.

Tara Schwabenbauer
I will be some place besides Corry. I have a big house all to myself living the fast life. Doing whatever I want. Every year I will have my friends come to my big house and we will party. I will come back to Corry once a year to see my friends and to see if anything has changed.

Trisha Moats
I will be working at a very successful career that I will have built for myself. On my free time I will be with my husband and friends. When I have to come back to town SM and I will be modeling for the fashion consultant of St. Thomas. Also SM, CB, RFI and I will cruise the strip of Corry playing polka music on our way to the UC McDonalds. While doing that will try to make sure CB doesn't run herself over with anyone's car!

Jenn Danks
I hope to be living somewhere far away from this town with my loving husband and two beautiful children. Every summer I will come home to visit my family and maybe even take time to go to the beach with Sarah without hitting cars. Hopefully I will be making lots of money and have a nice vacation house in Colorado. Also each year I will fly all of my friends from Corry to come see me so that we can all just hang out. I will make sure that I stop by to see RP, CV and the rest of the gang.

Shannon Sipes.
There are so many things I could be doing. I pray that wherever I am, I am in God's will because if I'm not, I know that what I am doing is not what he wants. I personally hope to be an awesome youth pastor leading an on fire youth group to our yearly trip to convention. Hopefully the car or bus won't break down! I will probably still be getting together with Abby to watch "Shag" every Friday night and making mad dashes to the store for microwave popcorn and orange pop. Kelsie and I will still have long talks on the floor of her kitchen waiting for Josh to drop by and give us some good ol' Ben and Jerry's. I am sure I will still be trying to crack her back. Most of all, I want to be happy, hopefully married to Mike Herrera and in due time having five little rascals of my own. I just want to be where God wants me to be. And doing just what he wants and loving every minute of it. Romans 16:19, 20 Phillipians 4:4-13

Mandi Lomomis
Hopefully I will be married with two beautiful little girls, living in a nice house with a gorgeous scenery. I plan to have graduated school for nursing, and have a well paying job. Every weekend Lori Bowen, my best friend in the world, and I will go shopping. And have the best time together.

Desiree Apps

I will own my own daycare center with Missy some where in Corry. I will also be married to my boyfriend, Roger Haas. And have two kids. Roger and I will be living in a big house with a white fence around it. Some where in Corry.

Egura Johnson
I will be ending up in "J Martin Photography Studio." And in the mean time leasuring the days in the clear water and sun of my Myrtle Beach home. There I will realitor all of the homes which line the coast. I will have a couple of maids and butlers to keep my house tip top shape while I'm out jotting around in my Mazda Miata Convertible and keeping tabs on my clients. My wife, will be a super model for one of the many magazines which I work with. We will have one child. Preferably a boy. When I retire, he will take over the real estate business.

Jason Martin
I don't plan on being married for awhile. I hope to be running and owning my own welding shop. I will still be coon hunting with my buddies. And driving a new Chevy Truck.

Wes Miller
I will be living in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida in a beautiful home that I worked really hard for. I will have a career, married to a wonderful man with two children. Michelle Leek will be an important part of my life so she can listen to all my problems and give advise. Inviting JT, RG and CS over to my house for lunch will be an everyday occurrence. We will be enjoying all our wild conversations while yelling at each other not to talk while eating. I will never forget April W. is cool! Above all I will be remembering all the good memories with my friends.

Tina Torres
I will be working in a law firm as a partner and being very successful in what I'm doing. I will be living in New York City married to a successful lawyer and have two kids.

Bob Kyles
I would have a good job to help support me and live in town in Waterford in a three story house, where I will have an indoor basketball court. I will have two or more dogs.

John Middleton
I will be living with my cat, going to cafes with Jean-Pierre and Eduardo. Also camping out at Stonehenge every midsummer eve. I will be keeping my friends from turing into sacred cow teenie-boppers especially, Amber and Erin.

April Tomikel
Let's see... let me look into my crystal ball. It said that Ranelle and I will still be talking, we will still compare roomers about us from the stupid people in the park who know nothing but think that they do. I will probably still have the most wild ones. I will also be married to JG and have three kids. I will have a job and we will live in a beach house in California. I will also call Amanda on my free time to see how she is doing with supporting her dictator.

Dawn Carter
I'll be 37 and involved in an advertising company. I'll be the creator of many ads. Then people will say "I know that girl!" Hopefully I will accomplish my goals. I will have been to Disney World I am known as a regular there. I'll be married to an amazing guy with two kids. Or this could all be a lie and I'll be doing something else, but all I know is that God will guide me. He'll decide if I'm rich or poor, famous or forgotten. Hopefully he won't let me forget my good fiends from high school.

Erin Sekeark

I'll be a professional wrestler beating everybody up. I will go by the name of Sloppy Joe Quinones and will win the WWF Title. And that's the bottom line cause Paco said SO! Oh I forgot I will have a beautiful wife and three kids.

Luis Quinones

Hopefully I will be married to Tyler. We won't have any kids because we won't have time for them, we'll always be traveling and having a great time in those small tropical countries. I won't forget about my friends and family. I need someone to turn to when things don't go my way.

Cristin White

I'll be happily married to my cowboy, Ken Shreve, and living on our ranch. Each year I'll go on tour with the girls while Ken goes bull riding with the guys. Nights after concerts, my secret agent and I will play spy. When the tour is over Ken and I will take our two children (both girls) and head to the beach where we'll have a huge summer parties and fly in all our friends from the class of '00 to hang with us.

Amy Ploss

I will be a successful mechanical and design engineer for John Deere. I will be living in the country on the outskirts of Waterloo, Iowa in a nice house with a big garage to put all of my toys in. My toys will consist of several antique John Deere tractors, two four wheelers a Wolverine and Warrior, lots of tools and my Ford F250 Powerstroke Diesel. On weekends I will be roaming trails on my four wheelers and camping somewhere on my travels with my tent. I will also be pulling my antique John Deeres in tractor pulls when I'm not working.

Darren Stockton

I will be kicking it up in the courtroom as a Judge Advocate General in the United States Air Force. I will be married to the man of my dreams Shaven Barto, with two children. I already will have the title of being Miss Mopar. I will also live next door to Alissa, so that I can cook for her all the time, for she and Erin, who I will get with every Halloween to dress up, dance on her porch, hand out candy and what ever else seems to happen. Most importantly I will be happy with whatever is tossed at me.

Heather Dougherty

My boy, JK and I will be happily married with a few children. I will be supporting him while continuing my own career as a physical therapist. ES and I will always remember all the fun we had in JD's "shoeless" wedding. I will visit JD and SB and all their children and keep on trying to plan a time we can all get together and do something fun. But most of all I will live my life to the fullest and always having fun!

Alissa Knapp

I will be a rich and famous Broadway star. I will be "staring" as Baroness Elsa Schraeder in the sound of music. They will cast me in this part because I already know all of the words and songs. I will also be working on my new project. On the weekends, I'll go to April's London flat, and hang out with her, the international boys, and her cat. She'll come to our theatre parties in my mansion. I also be married to a wonderful husband. Every so often, April and I will go visit Erin. Every winter I will throw a sled riding party at my parents house. And sometimes during the summer I help my sister out by working at Dairy Queen that she now owns. In all honesty, I don't care what I do as long as my life is a happy one.

Amber Wellington

I will have successfully completed college majoring in physical therapy. I will be married to Mike and have no children. We will have a horse and some cows. I will come back to their place and see SM, CB and MF to curise around town in the wood-chuck and get stuck in the window and turf through Mead Park.

Bobbie Jo Ohll

I would like to be living in Denver, Colorado. I am going to be married to my wonderful husband Ryan Boutwell and raising our kids. I plan on working as a social worker making lots of money. Most of all I just want to live life to the fullest and accomplish all of my dreams and goals.

Sarah Burrows

I will probably be living in a log cabin in the mountains of Montana. I will be guiding hunts for people hunting Elk. I will have lots of 4-wheelers and snowmobiles. In my spare time I will work on my muscle cars.

Brody Skalos

I see myself married to my girlfriend Jessica Sperry, living a happy successful life. Also my best friend will still be Mike Ploss. Always hunting, fishing, and camping together. Although I don't know right where I'll be living I do know it won't be near Corry.

Dan DeJoy

I see myself happily married with two kids living in the middle of nowhere. As a retired professional soccer player, I will spend my free time helping mine and Josh's record company become number one and play on the professional putt-putt tour. I still will come back every winter for secret missions with snake eyes, spidercat, night wolf and the gang. Corry high might finally support soccer but I highly doubt it.

Kyle French

I will live in a beautiful log cabin in the woods with my husband Charles Bailey, and our 2 or 3 beautiful kids. We will live well and happily ever after.

Marie Byler

If Jesus hasn't come back then I might be in another country helping people out sharing the gospel of Christ with them. Or I might be preaching to church and throwing peanuts out to the crowd to keep them interested. Or I might be in rock and roll band and touring playing the states, playing in basements, garages and in parks. Conchyonchynchüis! Haunty! Haunty! Peace, I'm out!

Ryan Butler

I will have a country home with lots of land. That way I can have lots of animals. I want to be married and have two children. I want to make a lot of money being a great veterinarian. On my spare time I'm going to go horse back riding with my family and friends.

Tammy Richards

I see myself married to Heather M. with half-a-dozen rugrats and a million dogs and cats. I'll be living in a house out in the country and on a horse ranch. Also I'll be flying a helicopter for fun and making weekly visits to my friends. My life ... yeah right.

Andrew Tripp

I hoped to be married with 2 kids. I would like to have a good paying job and be living in the country on a ranch with many animals.

Billjo Seamens

I will be doing the same things that I do now, but I will be married to a tall guy. I will also have a great job working with a kid, and I will be living it all up.

Dorothy Allen

Nerissa and I will be acting together on Broadway. We will send back complimentary tickets to Ms. Mick and Mrs. Norton for all their English classes. My then fiancé will be writing and desinging for TSR and Wizards of the Coast. I will hold magnificent masquerades in my New Orleans autumn home. Tina will still come over to watch "Interview with the Vampire" and eat Doritos. My mother and I will attend all the chic Hollywood parties before I return her to her window. And at long last I will tear April from her flat and make her come to all the Broadway cast parties.

Dani Vanderhoff

I hope to be a child psychologist or I will be working in a children's hospital for mentally and physically handicapped. I will be married and have two children. I want to live by a remote lake in Canada or some where far from Corry. I will have a horse ranch and will be racing and showing them in my free time.

Tiffany Cooney

I will be married to Joe Cox and living in a log cabin in the woods. We'll have at least three horses and a few kids of course. Schwabby will be our neighbor and come over to watch the Super Bowl every year. Joe and I will go to small bars and friends houses to sing and play guitar (he'll play the guitar.) a Denver Broncos flag will hang from our front porch.

Crystal Byler

I will be 38 and married to a wonderful wife and we will three kids and two rotweillers. I will either have my own practice or work in an urban hospital as a cardiovascular surgeon. My house will be located near a body of water; either a large lake or an oceanfront. When I am working 14-16 hour days, I will look back and laugh at how easy I had it in high school.

Vince Proy

I plan to be out of college, living a successful life as a pharmacist. I also plan to be happily married and have two wonderful children.

Kelly Portice

I would like to have my RoadRunner all completed and driving it. Also be married to someone I love most and eventually have my own business.

Shawn Gregory

I will be settled down, married to Jeremy. I will have a job somewhere and after work I will sit around and enjoy my son Kurtis and my next child. We will be living either in South Carolina or around here. Every once in awhile we will be going on road trips to visit all my friends and family members as well as his too.

Amanda Peru

I see myself and my friends riding speedy donkey's threw the wild woods of Columbus every Tuesday. Then on Thursday's my husband, my 6 children and I will go to my parents house for tuna noddle casserole. I will also be the richest rhino farmer this side of the Mississippi causing great envy from all my fellow peers at Corry, High.

WASHINGTON, D.C. --- WASHING

Early mornings and late nights were the theme for the last freshman spring trip to Washington D.C. These girls just need a break after many hours on their feet.

Hard Rock Cafe is a favorite stop for almost everyone. Ashley, Danielle, Anina, Jenny and Megan wait patiently for their meal. Maybe someone important or famous will arrive while they're there.

The State Capitol is a wonderfully constructed building made to somewhat resemble our Nation's Capitol. This is where many laws that directly affect the students at CAHS are passed or vetoed.

A trip away from home isn't all fun and games. Learning about our Commonwealth's and Nation's government and meeting with Senators and Representatives are a great part of the Washington experience.

TON, D.C. --- WASHINGTON, D.C.

Andy and Val enjoyed the night life of Washington as much as anyone. With a nip in the air, it sometimes made it difficult. This pair still manages to crack a smile.

A night of good food and a great musical was a wonderful way to end a week filled with excitement and memories. Toby's Dinner Theater was a great way to complete a trip like this.

A week away from home is always exciting. Many of the Freshmen that went on last spring's trip enjoyed the time away.

This beautiful sculpture represents important women who played a large part in the growth of our nation. Maybe someday Donna and Seema will have a sculpture dedicated to them.

New York, New York

"Anything that's ever happened on the planet can happen in New York City."

-TV producer Dick Wolf

The New York skyline is one of the best sites in all of New York. This scene is photographed by millions every year. And just like the thousands of people hard at work in all of those buildings, what goes on in them affects our lives.

"I walk down the same streets one day and then the next, and they're two totally different streets. The people on them are suddenly different, the attitudes, the colors, the lights, the way the sun is hitting the second floor, see gargoyles, and go 'Where the heck did those come from?'"

-Tom Fontana

A first time for many of the students who had a chance to go on the New York trip to see the "Big Apple" for themselves. Ashley, Abby and Kayla made the most of their trip and soaked up as much of the atmosphere as possible in the time they had available to them.

Although this trip was educational, there was a little time for fun and games. Tom and Charlie manage to make everyone crack a smile with their infectious ones!

Do these young gentlemen look a little suspicious to you? Charlie, Joe, Snapper and Mike certainly look like they're up to no good. With this crew, you can count on it!

While New York is said to be the "City that never sleeps," these boys can surely attest to that. A couple of long days really tires one out.

Maria stops to smile for the camera while she gets a break from the extensive list of scheduled things to do in NYC. The group that went were always busy; they had many things to see and only a short time to see them in.

This group of young ladies from CHS take a moment to pose for a picture. They did it willingly, just to grab a few minutes of rest before resuming their trek around New York City.

With so many interesting sites to see, we wonder which one was Charlie's favorite. He really captured the spirit of New York while we was there and even brought this souvenir home for memories.

These dashing young men pose for a picture on the return trip of the ferry back from Ellis Island. Charlie and George appear to be in a different climate than Tom and Adam.

Although snow may not have been in the forecast, it sure felt like a winter day. Amanda "weathered" it well by bundling up for the occasion.

Psych and Soc Assembly

The "Fashion Show" was a favorite of many at this year's assembly. Here Jeff, Nick, Aaron, and Heather model one of the featured looks - the thugs.

Something that always makes this assembly so popular is that each skit is written and performed by the students. Each idea comes from them. Sara introduces one of the many acts from the show.

Truth or Dare is a popular game, but sometimes it get a little out of hand. Gary reveals one of his secrets during the game. The secret is that he likes to wear his grandmother's dresses.

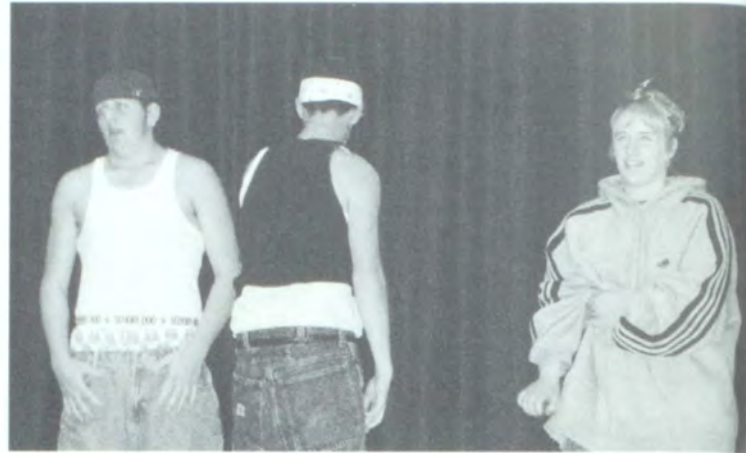

The song "All Star" talks about having self-confidence and doing your best. Mike Stroup sings the song in his cool shades.

This year's program featured the seniors from this year's graduating class. These students perform skits that show that under it all, we're all the same. In this skit, Dave handles being a "nerd" quite well.

Being safe in school is something everyone wants. Ryan and Josh are doing a skit that deals with school violence. Sadly, this subject has, in some way, touched many people's lives.

Soup-er Seniors 2000

This year, the Backstreet Boys seem to be one of the hottest acts in the pop music industry. Josh, Kevin, Ken, Ryan, and Ryan, interpret one of BSB's songs with moves of their own.

Being a comentator for one of the skits was Jason's job. He came prepared to "wow" the crowd in his own "fashion" at the fashion show. Students showed their unique manner of dress in this skit.

The Backstreet Boys have many fans everywhere. When they made their appearance here in Corry, John and Kyle had a sign ready to cheer on their favorite member.

Natalie and Erin sashay down the aisle as they participate in the fashion show skit. Students work hard during the beginning of the year to be able to get up on stage and perform before their peer group.

One of the advisors for the annual Psyc and Soc self-esteem assembly is Mr. Gruca. Here he is shown doing a skit about finding your talents.

Part of the program and class is getting the students to open up about and build confidence in themselves. Marlon takes a moment to share.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

Jessica and John really know how to make the most of an evening. Patrick Swayze eat your heart out, John could be your competition in "Dirty Dancing".

"Jackson Froman Named Snow King," the last king of the Twentieth century. Along with him is his date April and the rest of the Snow King Court.

A picture with a good friend is always something nice to have. So at this year's Christmas dance, Erica and Sarah will have a reminder of the night forever.

Snapper and Brian enjoy an evening when getting dresses up and having dates are involved. But, I don't see any dates around. Just kidding, I'm sure they're around here somewhere.

Lindsey, Shelby, and Brody have a wonderful time at their first Christmas Dance and hopefully this year will keep them coming back every year. Also Brody was a representative from the Freshman Class on the Snow King Court.

VALENTINE'S DANCE

While attending the Middle School Valentine's Dance is fun, it can also be tiring. This group of friends takes a break during the festivities to have this picture taken.

Carleen and Joe enjoy this night with a friendly dance. These old friends can make new memories.

With Valentine's Day only coming once a year and being such a special day, it's a good time for everyone to get together and what better place than a semi-formal dance to celebrate this day. These students know how to do it right.

All the students at the dance got dressed up and had their hair styled for the evening. Travis just couldn't resist showing off his good clothes and his killer smile for the camera.

Enjoying a night of fun, dancing, friends and good music is always a great way to make a memory. With all this going on, this will be a night for these two young ladies to remember with fondness for years to come.

Erin, Alexa and Lindsay certainly did have a good time at the Valentines Day dance. It looks like Mr. Henderson is trying to get in on some of that fun.

PEAK 'N PEEK

By the look on his face, Jon is having the time of his life. All the seventh and eighth grade students spent a very cold day enjoying the out of doors tubing at the Peak.

Is this really a Corry Middle School student? Students enjoyed a day of freedom from school when they visited Peak 'N Peek for their annual tubing and swimming trip.

Kyle, Ian and Brandon, along with all the others, enjoyed the food and the warmth of the Lodge at the Peak. Subs and wings were on the menu for the day's lunch.

Jessica and Alicia pose for a photo. They decided that they didn't want to hang around too long with the temperature being a "warm" 10 degrees.

Ben ponders the tubing hill before taking the final steps towards that ride. All seventh and eighth graders were able to tube to their hearts content on their recent field trip.

This group of young ladies is thoroughly enjoying themselves. Swimming at the Peak was an enjoyable time for all.

MIDDLE SCHOOLERS ENJOY A DAY OFF!

These students kick back and relax after a cold day on the hill.

What a great day for tubing--10 degree weather, snow, a hill--what more could you ask for?

Kayce, Becca and Holly joined together in this slide down the hill. Students from Corry Middle School enjoy an annual trip to the Peak.

Kristen enjoys a quiet moment poolside after spending the morning on the hill.

Eugene relaxes in the pool at the annual Peak field trip.

Only adults know the real reason someone would need to sit on an inflatable donut. Right, Mr. Anthony?

BEAVERFEST

With so many things to do and so much fun going on, some students got a little tired. Here these four guys are taking a break for a few minutes before stating another activity.

At Beaverfest, there was never a dull moment. There were prizes being won, games to play, friends to talk to, and fun to be had all night long.

Without the help of so many chaperones, Beaverfest wouldn't have been possible. Here are four of the hardworking adults who came out to keep order that night.

One place that was fun to hang out during Beaverfest was the chorus room. There students were able to sing and listen to their favorite tunes on the karaoke.

Having fun all night sure can work you up an appetite. Jeffrey sits down to enjoy some pizza before going off to do some more of the night's activities.

One of the best parts about this year's annual Beaverfest was the food. Thanks to all the sponsiors, there was plenty of it. Here Chad and Kara are taking a rest to have a bite to eat.

Between ping-pong, pool, video games, and fooseball, there were plenty of things to do and plenty of games to play. These four guys are using some of their time to play one.

For the people who love to playsports, Beaverfest was the place to be. During the night there were 3-on-3 basketball games and volleyball tournaments.

Many of the students in attendance at Beaverfest wore many unusual hats to help bring in the new year. April and Paula are sporting one of the many different styles.

The dance in the cafeteria was a big hit at Beaverfest. Students and chaperones were able to groove to the tunes played by the DJ all night long.

One of the big attractions at Beaverfest was the giant blow-up slide in the gymnasium. Students were able to climb up and slide the night away.

Giant bouncy balls were placed in the gym for students to play on. The gym was where most of the activities of the night took place and was also where most of the students stayed.

VoTech

Art Class is one elective here at Corry High School that you can take where you can make things to express yourself and use your creative talents. Here, these two girls are making necklaces and bracelets out of colorful beads to wear later.

If drawing is something you are interested in, then this class is one that you should consider taking. In it students use their time learning many drawing techniques and skills that you don't usually learn in a regular art class.

Woodshop is just one of the classes that is offered to students in the Vo Tech wing of the school. Here, Mr. Carey demonstrates how to use a sander, just one of the many machines students have to use in his classroom while making their projects.

Cooking classes are some of the popular electives offered in the Vo Tech hall at our school. In them you get a chance to make deserts, salades, and main dishes for the holidays and arounds the world. Here, Nicole is chopping tomatos for her dish.

In Cosmetology class, students learn skills such as cutting and dying hair. These skills can be taken out into the workforce and used as a profession when they graduate from High School. Here, this girl is demonstrating how to put curlers in hair for a perm.

If you like to cook or would like to learn how, then the CHS Vo Tech hall have some classes for you! In them, you will learn many kitchen skills and how to use many kitchen utensils. Here, these three students are applying some of their knowledge in making today's dish.

If you like to work with metal and use many large machines during school, then you should try metalshop. Students there learn a variety of techniques used when working with metal.

If you enjoy working with little children, the Day Care classroom is one place you ought to be. Here, students work with children that aren't old enough yet for kindergarten. Looks like Julie and these kids are having fun playing with corn in this picture.

A required class for all eighth graders is woodshop. In the classroom, students learn how to use many machines to create a project out of wood. Here, these two students are using a hand drill to finish one of their assignments.

In metalshop class in the Vo Tech hall, you are taught how to use a variety of machines to do many skills. In this picture, this guy looks as though he is using his time to perform one of those taught skills.

These two girls look like they are having fun in their Cosmetology class. In the classroom students learn a variety of hairstyles to do on other people. It looks as though these two are experimenting with one look.

In transportation, Mr. Morrison teaches students how to construct things such as rockets and cars and then tells the students how to launch them. Here Jennifer Patterson is preparing to launch her car down the hallway.

Students of "X"

Students at CHS not only involved in organized sports, but they are Xtreme athletes too

Some people may say that you're not as dedicated an athlete if you skate. This sport has its ups and downs like anyother. Nate has recovered fully from this injury.

Local ripper, Tyler Schreckengost takes his talents to new "heights." A week at High Cascade Snowboard Camp was a time for him to showcase his skills.

The growing popularity of snowboarding has resulted in a winter that never quits. This gives Pat a chance to get off the beach and onto the slopes

Will there ever be a skate park in Corry? The question still lingers in our minds. Until then, Eric will just have to make do with what he can find around town.

Ben soars just below the tree tops as he clears this jump with ease. A wooded area was transformed into a local BMX trail.

HONORS

Students honored in the classroom as well as in the community.

Audra Byler was named 1999 Sparty Fair Queen. There is a rigorous process all candidates must go through before this title is given to some lucky young lady.

In order to proceed in the Math 24 Challenge, students must first compete with students in their own schools. Rebekah and Alison advanced to the State competition.

Here the Corry Color Guard proudly sits with their fearless leaders Mrs. B. and Laura. This was the first time in many years that the Guard has won the Best Auxilliary award and we hope to see more of these trophies in Competitions to come.

Abby your tie is crooked, move it to your left. No, your other left!! Don't worry Abby the costumes and the show looked great. Good job.

Monica spread your wings and fly. With your numerous solos this year you certainly did show your true colors.

The team stands behind the fence waiting to see what will happen next. As a team the Beaver team outscored their opponents 208-55.

Josh Daniels warms up his pitching arm before a game. He had a batting average of .143. He also had a 3.82 ERA and 25 strikeouts.

Ryan Williams gets ready for the pitch. He had a batting average of .323 to help the Beavers become back-to-back ECL Champions.

Dale McCray awaits the next play. He had a batting average of .222 and had four runs and two hits for the season.

Nate Goodwill warms up before he gets up to bat. He had an ERA of 1.47 and a batting average of .372.

The team gets in a huddle before taking the field. The Beavers had a great season with a record of 16-2, which was the best in the county.

JV BASEBALL

Kevin Minnick gets in his ready position for the next play. JV team members work hard to build a strong background for a Varsity career. The JV team this year had an excellent building season. Practices are just as grueling and games just as exciting for the team, parents and other fans.

Josh Ongley jumps up high to grab the ball for the out at first before the runner can return to the base on an attempted steal. Good communication skills between teammates is a must in situations like these.

The Junior Varsity Baseball team had a record of 10-8 in their 1999 campaign. In those 10 wins several players had outstanding moments. This year's J.V. squad truly was a team. On any given night someone different would answer the call and make a play to help his team.

JV SOFTBALL

Rachel McCray warms up her arm for pitching. In any sport a good warm-up and stretch before playing keeps a player from receiving some injuries.

The JV Softball team had a record of 13-4. Some records recorded last year was: most wins 17 most runs 192
most hits 152
most stolen bases 155

Coaches Comments:
The JV team as a group improved remarkably from the beginning to the end of the season. Offensively, the Corry Beavers were the strongest team in the league and the best I've seen as the JV coach. The pitchers did a fantastic job as well.

The team has a huddle before the game to go over their strategy, which is very important. Working as a team is stressed a lot at the JV level to prepare them for Varsity.

Stephanie Migliaccio steps up to the plate in her batting stance to wait for the pitch. The JV players work on the skills for their upcoming Varsity careers.

Heather Kozuchowsky gets in position to react to what the batter will do next. Athletes are always trying new ways to make themselves better.

Jolene Daniels delivers another pitch. She broke the school record for having the fewest walks. She also had an ERA of 1.30. She made it to the 2nd team All County for pitching.

The team gets in a huddle to talk about their strategy for the game. This led to their 15-3 record in the ECL. They were also the District 10 champs.

Audra Byler gets ready for the pitch. She was a big help on offense, she had 13 RBI's and 4 extra bases.

Erica Mack swings the bat hoping for a hit. She helped out a lot this year. She has the fewest strikeouts with 3.

Michelle Allen stands out in the field with Tracy Burrows and Marie Atkinson. Michelle had 17 stolen bases and a batting avg. of .341.

Senior, Molly Varrassa was the Most Valuable Player for the 1999 Softball team. She was named to the All County team for 2nd base. She had the most hits with 33, and most RBI's with 25.

Katie Bloom throws the ball to first hoping for the out. She made 1st team All County for 3rd base. She had 24 runs and 17 stolen bases.

Tracy Burrows swings hard to get a hit. She was one of two members of the softball team who had the most triples with a count of three. She also had five extra base hits.

Marie Atkinson runs over to get ready to catch the fly ball for the out. She was 3rd team All County in the outfield.

Judd Piemme races to the finish. He had the season's best performances in both the 100 and 200 meters and tied for the 400 meters. Judd came in 2nd for Corry's Top Ten Point scores.

Brandon Fox and Rob Henderson helped the Beaver team to their 9 wins and 2 losses record. Brandon had the Best Performances in the 1600 and the 3200 meter runs. Brandon and Robbie both helped out the 3200 relay team too.

Derek McCray takes a moment to relax after a race. He was sixth on the Top Ten Scores with 67.5 points. He was part of the 400 relay that recorded a time of 45.15.

Dave Sekerak starts to run as the gun goes off. He really worked hard and his improvement over the season showed it.

Kyle French concentrates on his steps for the hurdles, which was his main event. He had a great season shown by getting faster times recorded as the season progressed.

Most Valuable Player, Matt Roden watches where his shot lands. He was the District Champion in the discus and qualified for the State Meet where he finished 6th. He led in the points category with 135.

Chris Campbell practices his steps for the hurdles. He had the fastest time in the 110 and 300 hurdles. He was also part of the 1600 relay team. He had a total of 60 points scored during his senior season. Track is a sport where you may compete by yourself, but your placement goes towards the total team score.

Gary Whiteley crosses the finish line of his 400 run. In the 400 and the 800 he had the best times, with a 56.24 and 2:14 respectively. He was also part of the 1600 meter relay. Gary has competed for the track team for the past three years and we're looking for great things from him his final year.

Josh Chase practices his form for the long jump. He recorded the best jump of 19'1" against Northwestern. He finished 8th in scoring with 59 points.

Ryan Swart sprints to the finish of his 200 meter race. Swart, along with Judd Piemme, Derek McCray and Josh Chase were part of the 400 relay that did so well.

Erica Proctor hands the baton off the Kate Schalles for the last leg of the 400 meter relay. Erica and Kate along with Lisa Mather and Diana Hou combined a time of 54 seconds, for the best time during the season.

Senior Danielle Bemis flies to another victory. She broke the school record for the 100 meter, 200 meter, and the triple jump. She qualified and competed at States. She also scored a record 222 points during her senior year.

Kim Kalika was a force to reckon with in her first year out for varsity track. She, along with Cathy Wilson, Ashley Peterson, and Erica Hiner had a 3200 meter relay time of 10:43.

Ashley Peterson leads a group of runners in the 1600 meter. She had a great season and consistently improved her times which is an important part of racing.

Vanesa Blanton uses all her strength to throw the shot. Throwing takes a lot of strength and long hours of practice. She did very well during the season.

Freshman Erica Hiner finishes another lap. She recorded the fastest times in the 800 meter and the 1600 meter. She was also the Erie County League Champion in the 3200 meter. She also competed at the district level.

JV GIRLS' SOCCER

Liz, Lauren and Kelly take time to stop and pose for a picture. All three girls had a fun season and their smiles can prove it. Soccer is in its infancy at Corry High. Hopefully it will stay around for a long while.

The girls soccer team had a good year. As we can see, the game just isn't about playing it's about having fun and making a team work. These girls take a break during half time to pose for this picture.

Lauren holds onto the ball that one of her teammates shot. She's getting warmed up for the game. There's no way a ball will get pass her.

These three clowns know how to have fun. We're not sure if they're entertaining their fans with soccer skills or goofyness. At least they know how to stay relaxed in a tough game.

Jenny hussles to score a goal. She watches as her kick was stopped. This wasn't the only shot Jenny had.

Brooke outruns an opponent as the ball goes downfield. The rest of the team looks on as she works to get control.

Nicole and Nicole proceed down the field looking for the opportunity to score for the Corry Lady Beavers.

Ashley runs towards the goal with the ball in her possession. Soccer is a sport that needs endurance and quick thinking.

Jenny tries to get control of a pass during a game.

Emily races downfield towards the ball. We will look for good things to come from these young ladies in the years to come.

Corry Girls' Soccer outpaces their opponent at this match.

Kate waits for a pass from a teammate during this match. Corry girls worked hard to put soccer on the sporting roster.

The Varsity team runs onto the field just before gametime. Hard work and a lot of sweat kept these young men looking good on the field. The numbers for the year might not have shown a winning season, but the hard work certainly did.

Brandon Royek takes the handoff and runs down the field before a defender can take him down. He helped out a lot running the ball and on defense. He will be back next year to lead the Beavers to victory.

Junior, Derek McCray looks around for an open teammate. This was his first year as quarterback and he did very well.

MVP, Matt Roden and some other members of the team stretch before the game. Stretching is very important because you don't want to pull a muscle during the game.

Our quarterback keeps the ball and begins to run. A quarterback needs an arm to throw as well as the ability to run.

FOOTBALL

A Beaver runner scrambles for some tough yards before he gets tackled by the Fairview Tigers. Conditioning and preseason workouts help these young men keep on top of the game.

The crowd stands behind their gridiron members. Before the game, these young men burst onto the field in focus for the upcoming battle. As in any sport, football can be a mind game as well as a physical game.

The Beaver football team huddles to get themselves psyched and ready to play. Football is a team sport where you need everyone's help and concentration.

Brian Zerbe gets focused to play the game. He was the offensive MVP for the season and he also made All County fullback as a junior.

Row1: F. Mercer, M. Roden, N. Clark, N. Martin, R. Miller, A. Moore, J. Hajec, S. Rhodes, L. Quinones, D. Downey, D. Keem, G. Whitely. Row2: B. Lawson, J. Graves, B. Royek, J. Ongly, S. Polach, N. Quarterback, Nate Harrington, drops back and looks downfield for an open receiver. The quarterback position is the focus of the offensive team.

Tightend, Charlie Berkous, and tackle, Thomas Harned, are blocking down on a defensive tackle in this offensive running play.

The offense gets prepared for the quarterback to run the play. With a record of 6 and 2 the JV squad had a great year.

JV FOOTBALL

Brian Forrest, one of the freshmen playing football this year, got a chance to see some JV action in this game. At the fullback position, he prepares for a block. A good blocker will keep their opponent away from the play.

Kyle Craker looks for room to run on this kickoff return. He plays at the running back position for the JV team. He was a key performer throughout the year.

Ryan Swart concentrates on the upcoming punt. He saw some Varsity action this year as a punter and running back.

8th & 9th GRADE FOOTBALL

These captains, Brody Howard and Cody Hoyt have more responsibility than just playing the game. They were chosen for their ability to play the game and their leadership on and off the field.

Coach Carey gives the eighth grade team some words of encouragement during a time out. Timeouts give the team a breather and time to get a drink.

The offensive line prepares for the play at the line of scrimmage during a recent game.

The team warms up before a big game. It is very important that they do, to keep injuries to a minimum.

Let's Go Beavers, You Can Do It!

JV VOLLEYBALL

The JV Lady Beavers huddle up with Coach Gates to help get them motivated and prepared for the game. With half of the team being freshmen it was a hard task in the beginning to learn to play as a team. The girls knew the only way to win was to play together.

Steph Migliaccio, a sophomore, goes up to spike the ball during warm-ups. She contributed a lot to the JV team and also saw a lot of Varsity action.

Row 1 S. Migliaccio, S. Ross, E. Miller, L. Dodd, V. Hellyer
Row 2 S. Hasbrouck, H. Tripp, J. Benward
Row 3 C. Wolf, L. Combs, C. Kalika, S. Andriacchi

Shelby Hasbrouck, a first year player, passes it up from the back row. Shelby was a great hustler this season, you can see from the expression of determination on her face.

Here Steph, Jess, and Sara get into position to play some intense defence. Playing good defence was an important role in winning JV games.

Jen digs the ball up for a set. She has to be on her toes when on the court because being the setter for the team she usually has second hit.

Huddled up on the court, the team discusses their strategy on winning the game. It is important, as in any sport for a team to know what they need to do and strive to accomplish it.

As Sarah's high school volleyball career comes to an end, her talents made this season a success. She shows her determination to spike the ball hard.

Using her arms, Stacey Powell provides a perfect platform for the ball to hit. Stacey is a very aggressive player and would always hustle for the ball.

Val and Jessica jump up to form a block during a routine warm up drill. Nothing magical out on the court will ever happen without everyone pulling through with team work.

VOLLEYBALL

The team circle ups during the game after one of their teammates serves an ace. Having good serves is a bonus in playing the game.

Caroline, a senior goes to serve the ball up and put it in play. She played a very important role in every aspect of the game, including her digs. She broke last year's record with the most digs in a single season.

Sara, playing back row, passes the ball up from the serve. She always managed to get the job done no matter what task she was being asked of her. Players like this are a coach's dream.

Heather attempts to block her opponent. Most of the time they weren't lucky enough to be able to get past her block. Heather is only a sophomore and a first year player. She still has two more years on the varsity team.

Row1: Elaine Cox, Caroline Hoachlander, Sarah Burrows, Jessica Benward, Jennifer Benward. Row2: Sarah Ross, Sara Kolaja, Beth Nanni, Leiann Dodd. Row3: Erica Miller, Stacey Powell, Heather Kozuchowsky, Stacey Migliaccio, Valerie Hellyer.

The senior boys are enjoying a nice sunny day outside as they pose for their last picture before the final match of their high school careers.

Dave takes a few practice swings before teeing off at the scenic North Hills Golf course.

T.J. chips the ball towards the hole with deadly accuracy and precision. He was one of the seven seniors on this year's golf team.

Senior, Tyler Sample watches the ball soar through the air towards the green with a look of anticipation.

Kevin Xander follows through on his swing.

Josh Wolf putts on the green as he practices for the match. Golfing takes hours of practice to achieve the success that each of these players strives for.

Here T.J. attempts to sink this putt on the green. Golf is one of those sports that he will be able to enjoy and participate in for his entire life.

Captain, Kevin played a big role in the golf team's success this year and in year's past. He will be missed by everyone once he has ended his high school career on the course.

Here Tyler practices his form before stepping up to take a swing and drive the ball.

John eyes the ball as it goes down the fairway. Starting out his high school career as a senior, he ended up being a great addition to the team.

It takes a strong will and determination in this sport to finish on top. The cross country coaches have high expectations of Brock and Kurtis in the years to come.

As Amy and Kim keep their eyes focused on the finish line, they sprint side by side.

Together the team runs at a steady pace to finish their laps assigned for practice while watching their times.

CROSS COUNTRY

This year's captains Brandon and Ashley show how much they really enjoy their jobs. A captain helps to keep his or her teammates on task and focused. They also try to set good examples with their work ethics.

The only two boys on the senior high cross country team take time out of a hard day's practice to show their smiles for the camera.

Dawn works on her endurance, which is a necessary ability to have if you choose to be a cross country runner.

Jill Shaver's face shows her determination to finish the course. Cross country is a grueling sport that can take place one day in the scorching heat and the next in the bitter cold. Runners practice in all kinds of weather and at all times of the day.

Row 1: Nicole Small, Donald Palesky, Jill Shaver Row 2: Kim Kalika, Brandon Fox, Ashley Frink, Amy Kinney.

Erin Ramsdell, a member of the seventh grade basketball team, takes a quick brake to tie her shoe. A game of basketball can really make you tired, so taking such a break is very convenient.

Making a quick get-away is the key to playing basketball. Ashley Coughlin is demonstrating this technique very well during the game against General McLane.

Corry's little Lady Beavers' offense holds its own against opponents. The girls focus and keep control of the ball at crucial times in the game.

7TH GRADE GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Row3: Kyliegh Lawrence, Erin Ramsdell, Sara Rankin, Kaiti Sekerak, Kira McEldowney. Row4: Tara Donaldson, Amy Quirk, Allison Hasbrouck, Alyse Wilson, Ashley Coughlin.

As they are seated on the bench waiting to play, the Corry girl's basketball team show no signs of jitters before the game. They are all smiles for the camera.

8TH GRADE GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Julie Andrus, this year's starting forward for the Corry girls eighth grade team, broke the single season record for most points. With 308 points mostly from the post position she was a big key player in the offense. Her personal quote "Always do your best" has brought her success.

Here Taylor stretches on the court before the game. It's important to make sure all your muscles are properly stretched and warmed up before you go out and play.

Jackie eyes the basket before her shot. Overall, the girls had a great year and worked very hard preparing for a JV or Varsity spot on next year's team.

Here Kierri dribbles the ball in for a shot near the hoop during warm-ups.

Row1: Sarah Patterson, Taylor Dougherty, Julia Andrus, Kierri Cox, Kim McCray. Row2: Laura Gentile, Amber Brown, Andrea Proctor, Jackie Gates, Leah Jackman, Coach West.

Jody Burrows dribbles to the basket with no one around to stop her. She is a freshman starter on the varsity team. She is also one of the team's "starting sisters".

Senior point guard, Sarah Burrows takes the ball down the court. Being a captain she is a leader for the team and is instrumental in its success.

Trisha Moats looks for an open teammate to pass the ball to. She is one of the two captains who were looked to for guidance during the season.

Megan Sampsell finds an open teammate and passes the ball to her. She really worked extremely hard on the winning Varsity team as well as the very successful JV team.

The girls take a timeout to review their game plan, while they get some water and cool down. The Lady Beavers had a great season for a young squad and learned the valuable lesson of working as a team. And it showed.
